SIKESTON STANDARD

Southeast Missouri's Leading Semi-Weekly

VOLUME 22 — SIKESTON, SCOTT COUNTY, MISSOURI FRIDAY MORNING, MAY 11, 1934 — NUMBER 64

THE EDITOR SAYS—

The unpleasant notoriety recently given three Sikeston physicians should be a warning to all physicians who are doing a legitimate practice, to let a dope fiend who throws a fit in the floor in order to get a shot, die and go to hades instead of giving one shot that calls for another. We are told there are a number of narcotic users in Sikeston and vicinity who get their shot from somebody, and this is the reason the Government stool pigeons were sent to Sikeston. Already one of these doctors has been approached and told not to worry as he would see that everything would be all right. The United States District Attorney, whose duty it will be to prosecute these cases, should have any party thrown in jail who even suggest that he dismiss any case until brought to trial, or until satisfied he has no case.

A letter from Chas. W. Green, secretary of the Missouri State Fair, informs us of the selection of Mrs. G. Moore Greer, of Sikeston, as hostess of the Woman's Building during the 1934 State Fair to be held at Sedalia. This is quite an honor bestowed on our fellow townswoman, as well as all Southeast Missouri as this is the first time in the history of the Missouri State Fair that such an honor has come this way. Mrs. Greer is eminently fitted for the position as she has education, common sense, poise and personality that especially fit her for the position. We feel that Mr. Green and the Missouri State Fair are to be congratulated on securing the services of this accomplished matron.

Reports from different directions for Sikeston are very encouraging to the farmer. Corn is growing so fast that you can almost hear it. Gardens never looked better and never so many planted. In town roses are blooming, the spring fever plentiful and high school graduates mailing out commencement invitations. All are hopeful.

To window shop costs nothing and is worth a lot. You can see the styles, the colors and the price without paying out a dime. We enjoy this sport and wish we had the price to buy this article or that article to give to someone to make them happy. Sikeston has some wonderful window displays that please the eye.

Most generally you will find something interesting in The Standard, if not in the news and editorial sections, then in the advertising columns. We feel honored and proud that The Standard carries the bargain messages to our readers and in shopping we feel certain money can be saved by buying from those who seek your patronage.

Complaint has been made to this office that electrical refrigerators nave been purchased through the Municipal Light Superintendent at cost plus freight. We know nothabout this, but will say there are six or more mercantile establishments in Sikeston who pay taxes here, who pay merchants taxes and license, and who live here, that handle electric refrigerators of one sort or another and they are entitled to these sales and the profit thereon in order they may pay their bills to the local electric light plant.

Sunday is Mother's Day and every soul who has a Mother living should, in some way, remember her. In our young manhood there was no Mother's Day set aside as how and while we always thought of Mother, there were few remembrances sent her as they now do. This is to tell young folks who have a Mother living to make the day a happy one for her if only personal congratulations and appreciation for what she has done for you.

The new code price list for the Graphic Arts, or commercial printers, is in the hands of printers of Southeast Missouri. This sets the price to be charged by big printing establishments and by little printers. The United States District Attorney is ready to investigate and prosecute any complaints brought to his attention with proof.

We expect to see "Nancy's Private Affair" on the stage at the High School Auditorium next Tuesday night. This is the Senior Class play and from rehearsal reports will be quite entertaining.

We point with pride to this issue of The Standard and view with alarm those who do not use its advertising columns to place their merchandise before the public. Our "multi-colored" press was called into action and the editor drafted to do the feeding. The management stands ready to duplicate colored advertising at a slight increase in rates at any time sufficient notice is given. All the advertising and press work has been done since the Tuesday edition was placed in the mail.

Parking On Two Streets Changed By Ordinance

Three proposed ordinances were passed unanimously, one was rejected, April bills were approved, and minor matters were considered at a regular monthly meeting of members of the City Council held in the City Hall at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening.

By the action of the group in passing one ordinance downtown parking on two streets will be changed to a system which was tried once before without success.

The act provides that all automobiles stopping on the north side of Front street between Kingshighway and Scott Street and on the east side of North New Madrid street between Front and Center streets must be parked at an angle of forty-five degrees with the right side of each car nearest the curb. On the south side of Front street and the west side of North New Madrid street within the area designated, automobiles must be parked parallel with the curb.

Persons violating this ordinance will be considered guilty of a misdemeanor and may be fined not more than $100. All trucks and buses which have load carrying capacities of more than three-fourths of a ton are forbidden to stop on these two streets, and it is understood that there will be no double parking.

A second ordinance passed by the Council prohibits circuses, carnivals, dog and pony shows, skating rinks and shows and exhibitions of any kind operating under a canvas from locating their shows within 300 feet of a church or school building Persons found guilty of violating this act will be fined not less than $5 nor more than $100

The third ordinance levied a sales tax of 3 cents a gallon on gasoline and twenty cents a gallon on lubricating oils sold on or delievered to the municipal airport. Companies making such sales must remit this tax to the City Clerk, together with a monthly or quarterly report. A fine of not more than $100 will be paid by any concern violating this ordinance.

An ordinance providing for an increase in the salary of Walter Kendall, Chief of Polie, was automatically rejected when members, by a secret ballot, voted five to two against raising Kendall's pay

Among the April bills approved by the Council members was a telephone bill of $17.35 for long distance calls made in January, March, July and December, 1933, and in January, February and March of this year, and for rent for the police department telephone for January, 1933. After these bills were accepetd, Dr. G. W. Presnell requested the City Clerk, A. C. Barrett, to have the Southeastern Missouri Telephone Company submit their statements every month hereafter.

John Thompson, City community garden supervisor, was retained in that position for another month at a weekly salary of $14.40. Speaking in behalf of Thompson were John A. Young and C. L. Blanton, Jr., who outlined the work which has been done on the city's ten-acre tract, telling that all the ground has been harrowed, an acre and a half planted in beans, and 8000 cabbage plants set out. They said that soon seed potatoes and tomato plants will arrive, and that in the fall produce from Scott county's four community gardens will be canned by women on relief with the aid of operators of a traveling canning kitchen. Mr. Young, in urging the retention of Thompson, stated that he spent $160 weekly among the merchants for relief, and that the city received approximately $134 worth of labor free.

Frank Lair, representing the Chamber of Commerce, requested the Council to erect street signs at Sikeston's 225 intersections. Two would be needed at each one, he said, but it is thought that wherever possible telephone and light poles could be used to reduce the expense of buying posts for the signs. Mr. Lair's request was referred to members of the street committee, who will obtain estimates for the work.

The Council moved to ask the highway department officials to have the branch of Highway 61 which runs through the city marked Optional 61.

Members of the group will meet at 7:30 Tuesday evening to swear in as an alderman the man who is that day elected in ward three to fill the place left vacant by Dr. Presnell, when he was chosen mayor.

Officers of the Auxiliary are the following women: President, Mrs. C. O. O'Neal; vice-president, Mrs. Frank Dye; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. B. F. Adams.

The 1935 county convention will be held at Oran.

PHYSICIANS ACCUSED OF VIOLATING NARCOTIC LAW

Three Sikeston physicians were charged in Poplar Bluff Tuesday with violating the narcotic laws, following an investigation made here by two government agents from the bureau of narcotics of the United States Department of the Treasury.

The men, Dr. A. A. Mayfield, Dr. Howard Dunaway and Dr. J. F. Waters, had a formal hearing before H. H. Freer, United States Commissioner, and were bound over to the October term of the Federal Court in Cape Girardeau, when a federal grand jury will review their case. Bond was set at $500 for each one.

It is said that about a week ago two men went to Dr. Mayfield's office at 214 West Malone Avenue and posed as incurable dope addicts, moaning, groaning and holding their stomachs in the presence of witnesses.

According to Dr. Mayfield, the two stated they were strangers passing through Sikeston and wanted only one prescription of morphine to enable them to leave town. An examination, he said, revealed that one had chronic adhesions from an old operation in his lower abdomen, the other, ulcers of the stomach. They both showed places on their arms which indicated they had been given shots before. Dr. Mayfield now believes these marks were made by a sharp pencil point.

He gave them a prescription, but in a few days they returned. When Dr. Mayfield questioned them, they said they had obtained temporary jobs and needed additional morphine. This they were given.

On Monday they visited Dr. Mayfield for a third time, but after he had written a prescription for them, they showed their badges and told him he was under arrest.

The manner employed by the agents in getting morphine from Dr. Mayfield is said to be similar to that used in the cases of Drs. Waters and Dunaway.

It is understood that narcotic agents, traveling to towns, inspect drug store prescription lists and then question doctors who have been issuing numerous prescriptions. The narcotic law provides that physicians may prescribe as much as is necessary. Because several of Dr. Mayfield's patients are acute sufferers, it is said, he has been allowing more morphine than ordinarily.

The two agents are Leroy T. Sutherland and Paul Q. Halterman. R. E. Bailey has been retained as attorney for the three accused men.

Charles F. Mullet, an assistant professor of history at the University of Missouri, spoke Thursday morning to sophomores, juniors and seniors, at the high school auditorium.

In outlining to students the advantages of attending the university, Mr. Mullett was co-operating with members of the Columbia Chamber of Commerce, who are attempting to interest more young men and women in the university so that the institution's enrollment will be increased.

After a talk at 1 o'clock Thursday before Charleston high school students, Mr. Mullett returned to Columbia.

Orville Zimmerman, of Kennett Announces Candidacy For Congress

In this issue of The Standard Hon. Orville Zimmerman of Kennett, Dunklin County, Mo., makes his formal announcement for the Democratic nomination for Congress from this district.

Mr. Zimmerman was born and reared to manhood on a farm in Bollinger County, in this district, where he received his early education and training in the public school at Glen Allen and at old Mayfield-Smith Academy, now Will Mayfield College. Later he attended the State Teachers' College at Cape Girardeau, from which institution he graduated in 1904. After serving as principal of the high school at Dexter for four years, he studied law at the University of Missouri, graduating in the year 1911. In that year he located at Kennett, where he has made his home and practiced his profession since that time.

Speaking of his candidacy, the Dunklin Democrat, his home paper, had the following to say of him:

"While he has never held an elective, or other public office with any salary attached, Mr. Zimmerman has taken an active part in the Democratic politics of this district all of his life, and especially during the twenty-odd years that he has been practicing law in Dunklin County.

"He has served for several terms as a school director in this district, and is at present a member of the Board of Regents of the Southeast Missouri State Teachers' College; was for a number of years a State director in Lions International and drafted the constitution under which the State organization is now operating.

"An ex-service man, Mr. Zimmerman has taken an active part in the affairs of The American Legion, and is one of the trustees of Samuel T. Adams Post of the American Legion. During the war, prior to his closing his office and leavng for training camp, he was chairman of the legal advisory committee of this county.

"He is a former president of the Kennett Lions Club of which he is a charter member; a Mason and a Shriner; and for years has been one of the most active in the affairs of the Methodist church.

"Thoroughly acquainted with the problems of this district, mature in his judment, intellectually ture in his judgment, intellectually quickly gaining the confidence of his followers, Orville Zimmerman should be the choice of an overwhelming majority of the voters of the Tenth District when they select the Democratic nominee for Congress next August".

Mr. Zimmerman will make an active campaign in this county and hopes to see personally as many voters as possible. However, owing to the size of the district, he will not be able to see everyone, and he takes this means of personally soliciting the support and influence of each and every Democratic voter.

Presnell Urges Care of Expectant Mothers

Dr. G. W. Presnell stressed the need of proper care for mothers, both before and after the birth of their children in a talk which he gave before members of the Lions Club when they met with the Catholic ladies at the old Catholic school building Wednesday for a regular weekly luncheon session.

"During 1933", Dr. Presnell said, "in the United States, where Mother's Day originated, over 10,000 women died needlessly to bring a human being into the world. What more noble and worthy purpose could Mother's Day have than to be dedicated to safe-guarding the mother in the achievement of her biggest destiny!"

During a short business meeting men were chosen as delegates and alternates to the State Lions Club Convention which will be held at Steeleville on May 27, 28, 39 and 30. Delegates are Ted Kirby, E. F. Schorle, Joe Sarsar, Ralph Anderson and C. L. Blanton, Jr.; alternates are Leon D. Gmeiner, M. M. Beck, John Powell, Pete Medley and Dr. W. A. Anthony.

The text of Dr. Presnell's speech is printed below:

"Mother's Day means something very definite to everyone. If we have lost a mother there is nothing but the memory to venerate, and to him whose mother is still with him, it serves as an occasion for showing her how great a place she has in his life.

"Sentiment should have a place in the life of every one of us, and there is no one who appreciates sentiment more than our mothers, but Mother's Day is going off the strictly sentimental standard. It was formerly used as a day of almsgiving, but today we realize it is of far more importance to safeguard her life and health. During 1933, in the United States, where Mother's Day originated, over 10,000 women died needlessly to bring a human being into the world. Over one-half of these women could have been saved by adequate maternity care. What more noble and worthy purpose could Mother's Day have than to be dedicated to safeguarding the mother in the achievement of her biggest destiny!

"It is most important for the mother that she have early and good advice in order to prevent many of the complications which end disastrously to both mother and babe. The responsibility rests with the father to see that nothing has been left undone that will assure her safety. It is therefore important to get men's clubs thruout the country interested in the part they can play toward securing better maternity care for all expectant mothers. Only by appraisal of maternity facilities in every community and a study of their quality, can the great step forward be taken. We need to arouse the public to the fact that the death rate is too high. I believe it is said that a greater number of mothers die in America than in any other country from childbirth. This is not due to incompetent service during labor, but to prenatal care. We have not aroused the interest and importance of safeguarding the complications. We need a nation-wide campaign to make 'motherhood safe for mothers', and when a number appalling and unnecessarily large—over 10,000 out of 16,000, who annually die in child birth could be saved if only adequate care could be had, it is time to be aroused and very concerned. In addition to these giving their life, we have many, many women left invalids for lack of necessary care.

"Surely we should make some effort to save mothers. We should have groups in every community to work with their own physician, health offices, and nurses to alter those factors which are detrimental to safe motherhood. Unfortunately every community in the United States does not have facilities for giving adequate care to every expectant mother for the price she can afford ot pay. The expectant father should find out what the facilities are in his own community, so as to make the best use of whatever is available. He should make certain of:

"1. A doctor to care for her from the time she thinks she is pregnant until she is able to resume her regular activities. The doctor will make a physical examination, take her blood pressure, examine her urine, and measure her to determine how much room there is for the baby to be born. He will want to see her or have reports every three or four weeks throughout pregnancy. He will help her to decide whether to go to a hospital or stay home for the baby's birth. He will want to see her and the baby several times after the baby comes. Then he will examine her about three months later, to make sure everything is again normal.

"2. A good dentist to go over teeth and clean them, fill any cavities, and teach her how to care for her mouth.

"3. Instructions and help during pregnancy in the personal and home hygiene, that will help her to keep well, to care for her family. This instruction can be secured from visiting nurses. The nurse can give practical help about all details, and can help her to plan her days so there will be time for rest and pleasure and time outdoors in the sunshine.

"4. Nursing and household help when the baby comes and for several weeks afterwards. Husbands who understand the needs can learn to be a great help.

"5. A plan for fitting the baby in the home so the whole family life will not be upset, a place for his own things, a daily schedule for his care, a father ready to help with the care of the baby or with the housework; these are some of the helps toward keeping father, mother and baby well and happy.

"While the death rate of mothers is appalling, I believe there is quite an improvement. We do not have much superstition. As mothers become more enlightened they do not believe that they are responsible for the mother-marks or birth-marks, neither do they believe the only thing necessary is to keep the bowels open and trust God. Although I do not question the wisdom of that belief, a doctor's care and instructions are also necessary. Pregnancy is natural and should be normal. The birth of a baby should not injure or impair the health of any woman who has had good care from the beginning of her pregnancy. The important thing is to employ a good doctor early and follow his advice in every detail, every day.

"I repeat, the responsibility of the mother's safety rests with the father. This is a grave responsibility and there is no escaping it. All have part in deciding the details of the care the expectant mother is to receive. It is a responsibility with which the men of America are deeply charged, and to which they should actively respond. It's our duty—to ourselves, our wives, our children, and our mothers".

Two Are Charged With Killing Ripley Farmer

Members of the highway patrol office here who went Tuesday afternoon to Doniphan to investigate, with Ripley County officers, the slaying Monday night of D. M. Burke, a 45-year-old farmer living near Grandin, solved the case when they jailed Ed Barnett, 41 years old, a former convict who farms near Doniphan, and Orison McKinney, also a farmer. John E. McKinney, father of Orison, who was at first questioned about the killing, was released on a $5000 bond.

Burke was killed from ambush while he was watering his mules at sunset Monday evening. At the Doniphan hospital, where he was taken after his 8-year-old son had seen him fall and summoned help, it was found that a charge from a shotgun had entered his body on the right side of the abdomen.

The motive for the slaying centered around approximately two and a half acres of land, the ownership of which Burke and the elder McKinney had each claimed for some time. And although both men, prominent in their community, had quarreled over the land, the murder was planned by Orison McKinney, who hired Barnett to kill Burke for $25.

Capt. A. D. Sheppard, Sgts. R. R. Reed and Massie, and Troopers Graham and Wallace, who left here Tuesday afternoon, arrested Barnett at 4:30 o'clock Wednesday morning and the younger McKinney at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The shotgun used in the killing was found in the home of John McKinney.

In a complete confession, which Barnett made soon after his arrest, officers learned that Orison had convinced the former convict that Burke intended to kill him and that it would be wise for him to strike first. This he agreed to do.

On Monday, when the elder McKinney's bees swarmed and he went out to tend them, Orison, whose home is not far away, slipped into his father's house and removed the shotgun, taking it to a spot near a spring, already designated as a hiding place for the weapon.

Barnett found it, shot Burke from ambush, and then returned it to the spring. Then Orison surreptitiously slipped it into his father's house again.

Barnett and the younger McKinney are being held in the Ripley County jail at Doniphan, the former charged with murder, the latter, with being an accessory before the fact. Though McKinney has not confessed, officers feel that they have a strong case against him.

Burke was a well-known and well-liked farmer. He had lived in the Grandin district for several years. His body was sent to Ft. Leavenworth, Kas., a former home, for burial. He is survived by his wife and two adopted children.

Five Are Charged With Killing Show Employe

A woman, together with her son, two daughters, and a daughter-in-law, was placed in the Pemiscot County jail in Caruthersville Wednesday and charged with the murder of her husband, Russell Evans, 48 years old, whose body was found floating in the Mississippi River, Monday morning.

The following are accused: Mrs. Bonnie Evans, 50 years old, the wife of Evans; her son, Howard, 27 years old; her daughters, Teny, 18 years old and Mary 16 years old; and her daughter-in-law, Thelma, wife of Howard.

Evans' body was found at 11 o'clock in the morning by a fisherman, who notified officers. An examination made by Coroner J. W. Rhodes of Hayti at undertaking rooms in Caruthersville disclosed that Evans' skull had been crushed and discolored, presumably from a blow made with a heavy, blunt instrument, and that his body had not been placed in the water for almost twenty-four hours after he died. Because the body was not badly decomposed, it is thought Evans was killed sometime late Friday night or early Saturday morning.

Evans and his family were members of the "Zarlington" troupe which with a medicine show operated by "Chief Rolling Cloud", an Indian, had been playing in Caruthersville for two weeks. Mrs. Evans, taken to Caruthersville from Kennett, where the show had gone to exhibit, said her husband disappeared Friday and she had left without knowing what had happened to him.

The five accused are said to have killed Evans to be rid of him, following a quarrel during which the son, Howard, who owns most of the troupe's equipment, asked him to leave because he was spending all of the family's earnings on liquor.

Evans was seen last at a drinking place Friday night. It is said that then he bought liquor with fifty cents which he had.

After the quarrel, which occurred in Bragg City week before last, he had followed the troupe and for several days had been living in a tent directly north of Caruthersville with Otto Cravens and Barto Hubbard.

According to Mrs. Evans, he returned several times to the show grounds for money, which she sometimes gave him.

Evans was buried in the county burial ground near Hayti, Monday night. At one time he lived in New Orleans, but his home was originally at Marion, Ill.

MILL SPRINGS BANK ROBBED THURSDAY

The Angel of Death Visited—

A message was received by relatives here Thursday informing them of the death of Mrs. A. E. Lydy of East St. Lousi, Ill., formerly of this city, which occurred Wednesday evening, the cause said to have been high blood pressure and other complications. The body will be brought here for burial, to arrive today on the noon train and will be taken to Welsh Funeral Parlor. Funeral services will be conducted Sunday.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Lydy is survived by two daughters, Lola and Stella, and one son, Loren; four brothers, Bill and Jim Ellis of this city, Pat Ellis of Charleston and a brother in the army.

Funeral services for Mrs. Julia Wallace, 66 years old, who died Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Elmer Kindred, in Crowder, were conducted at the residence at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning by the Rev. A. C. Sullivan, pastor of the Morehouse Baptist church. Burial was in Memorial Park cemetery.

Mrs. Wallace, who had been ill for approximately a year, was born in Forence, Ala., on June 2, 1867. In March, 1898, she married John Wallace. She had been a member of the Missionary Baptist church at Vanduser for the last twenty-six years.

Besides Mrs. Kindred, Mrs. Wallace is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Verbal Rodgers, Sikeston, and Mrs. Edna Hamlin, Vanduser; two sons, Alva Wallace, Vanduser and Arthur Wallace, Morehouse; three stepsons, Turner and David Wallace, Vanduser, and Jim Wallace, Morehouse; and thirteen grandchildren. Three children have died. Mr. Wallace has been dead for eighteen years. Welsh service.

Funeral services for Mrs. J. E. Cora, 67 years old, who died at her home early Tuesday, were held at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Church of the Nazarene here. They were conducted by the Rev. C. F. Transue, pastor of the church. Burial was in Memorial Park Cemetery.

Suffering from a tumor, Mrs. Cora had been ill for three years, but was not seriously afflicted until last Thursday.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Lyman Akes and Mrs. Fred Feter, both of St. Louis, and Mrs Wm. Swinney and Mrs. Ray Lee, both of Sikeston; three sons, John Cora of St. Loui, Claiborne Cora of Sikeston, and Arthur Cora of Cape Girardeau; a brther, Bailey Reese; ten grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren. Welsh service.

SOUTHERN TEACHERS DEFEAT WASHINGTON

The Southern Illinois Teachers' College track and field team again showed its power and supremacy by defeating Washington University, St. Louis, by a score of 82 to 49.

Leland Lingle, coach of the team and himself a graduate of the college, which is located at Carbondale, began his teaching at the Sikeston high school in 1921. Four years later, he returned to Southern Illinois Teachers' College to accept a position which he still holds.

Southern gathered nine first places to six for the Washington Bears. The individual stand out of the meet was Crisp of Southern, who is Lingle's stellar hurdler. Running the high hurdles for second time in collegiate competition, he clipped them in 15.7 seconds. Crisp was high point man of the meet with thirteen points. He won first in the broad jump with a leap of more than 22 feet and second in the record breaking low hurdle race.

Southern also slammed the mile run with Newton, Lemons and Grisco finishing in that order.

Lavern Tripp stepped the quarter in 52 seconds flat, with Heiderschied of Southern pressing him all the way.

Clark, Washington's great weight man, maintained his reputation as a great shot putter and discus thrower by defeating Bauder and Duckworth in the shot, the first time a Southern man failed to win first place this year. However, Clark was forced to put the shot 45 feet, ½ inches.

Perhaps the greatest performance of the afternoon and most closely contested was the discus throw. Bauder again showed his great ability by hurling the platter 137 feet, 2½ inches for first place with Clark second with 136 feet, 5 inches; while Knash, the new sensation of the Southern squad, throwing for the first season in competition, placed third with a throw of 135 feet, 8½ inches.

Brown again easily won first in the javelin.

In the low hurdles, Devor of Southern set another new record, topping the barriers in 25.8 seconds and nosing out Crisp by inches.

Cole easily defeated Nickols of Washington in the high jump with a leap of 6 feet.

Mrs. Billy Hill of Troy, Tenn., arrived Sunday for a visit with her aunt, Mrs. Robert Joyner.

MOTHERS' DAY AT WOMAN'S CLUB TUESDAY

The Woman's Club very delightfully entertained the mothers of Sikeston at the home of the President, Mrs. Ray Burns, Tuesday afternoon.

After a short business meeting, Mrs. J. M. Massengill presented the following program which she opened with a beautiful tribute to mothers.

Mrs. George Kirk rendered the beautiful solo, "Mother of Mine", with Mrs. Tanner C. Dye at the piano.

Mrs. Harvey Morrison gave a reading "A White Rose".

A pageant given by the ladies of the Christian church, "Our Precious Heritage", with Mrs. Glenn Matthews at the piano.

A lovely poem read by Mrs. T. F. Henry and a short story by Mrs. Jack Anderson.

At the close of the program, a cake was presented to Mrs. Laura Smith with a lovely tribute complimenting her as the oldest mother present. A social hour followed when light refreshments were served.

AIRPORT WORK BEING FINISHED THIS WEEK

All work on the Sikeston municipal airport will be finished this week.

Men on the work relief roll have been leveling about ten acres in the northwest corner of the field to complete the 160 acres included in the airport. The rest of the ground has already been converted into a 1 per cent grade. Lespedeza and oats, sown last month, are growing, making the field green and holding the soil in place.

A wind indicator, recently purchased, will be fastened to the airport hangar, and on the roof of the hangar will be painted in white a large M, signifying municipal, and under it, the name Sikeston.

On the roof of the Lair Furniture Company will be painted Sikeston in letters approximately fifteen feet high. Also on this building will be a large white arrow pointing north and marked N, and another pointing east to the airport. In addition to this, the distance in miles, or a figure 1, will be put by the arrow, and with it a circle enclosing a letter and a figure indicating the size and equipment rating of the municipal field.

The letter and figure to be placed within this circle will be determined by a federal airport inspector who will come here soon to see the field and give it a rating. A second letter, ordinarily placed in this circle, indicates the rating of night lighting facilities. When the Sikeston airport is equipped with lights, this letter will be added.

These letters and figures are put in prominent positions in cities having airports so that flyers may know where to find the fields and whether they may land their planes with safety.

Earl Johnson, who represents the Henry Meldrum Post 114 of the American Legion on the city aviation board, is supervisor of the airport.

U. D. C. TO MEET FRIDAY

The meeting day of the United Daughters of the Confederacy has been changed to Friday at 3:15 o'clock. Mrs Josephine Veith, the hostess, will entertain members at the home of Mrs Wm. Keller at 414 North Ranney Street. Mrs. Moore Greer will be leader of the program.

WHICH GASOLINE ADVERTISING IS MOST SINCERE?

Thousands answer:

Phillips 66

● What do you and other experienced drivers think of the confusing claims and counter-claims presented in the gasoline ads?

To discover the answer, university psychologists recently made independent surveys in nine Mid-west cities. The results proved that the average motorist wants facts—proved that he appreciates authentic information which helps him select gasoline intelligently.

Naturally, we are gratified that so many car owners voted Phillips advertising as "most sincere." We make no trick claims, we employ no high-pressure salesmanship in print, because we have the following basic facts around which to build every Phillips 66 advertisement:

1. In each ad, we print in plain figures the definite gravity (or high test) range of Phillips 66 for the month, conclusive evidence which tells you how high the test is. Decide for yourself why others do not publish their gravity figures.
2. Phillips is the world's largest producer of natural high test gasoline.
3. Matching or tailoring gasoline to the weather was pioneered and first offered by Phillips. We call this process CONTROLLED VOLATILITY.
4. We use lead tetraethyl to insure genuinely high anti-knock value.
5. We charge nothing extra for high test Phillips 66.

On the basis of these facts, it is obvious that it doesn't take a mechanic to feel the difference. Once you Phill-up with Phillips at the Orange and Black 66 shield, the way your motor runs is our best advertisement.

New Madrid County School Superintendent's News

By Milus R. Davis

We have just received a letter from Jefferson City stating that the teachers of LaForge schools will be paid Federal Aid for the last 17 days; Point Pleasant, 55 days; Linda, 18 days; Boekerton, 46 days; Barnes Ridge, 57 days; Walnut Grove, 57 days; York, 22 days; Sugar Tree, 40 days; Wilburn, 7 days; Hough, 82 days; Union Grove, 15 days.

We expect the checks for these teachers to come in within a short time and shall notify teachers as soon as they arrive. Two of the above districts have not been allowed enough aid through some error and we are asking the Federal Relief Administration to correct these errors.

On Thursday night, April 19, we attended the last day exercises of O'Bannon school. Mrs. Elvena atimer Randolph finished her third year as teacher there and will work in the Marston schools next year.

Friday, April 20, we took part in the closing programs of both Wilburn and Pt. Pleasant schools. Miss Dema Parker is teacher at Wilburn and has been re-elected for the third term. Miss Lucille Knight finished her second year at Pt. Pleasant but will not teach next year. However, her work was satisfactory and she could have retained her position there.

Thursday night, April 26, we visited the graduation exercises of the Dawson school where Miss Geneva Stepp has finished her second year's work as teacher.

Saturday night, April 28, we presented the eighth grade diplomas at the Conran graduation and D. M. Smith, member of the board, presented the high school diplomas. Orville Zimmerman of Kennett gave a splendid class address. The house was overflowing. Supt. J. A. McCullough and the entire faculty have been employed for the coming year.

The subject which we are stressing this spring is "Educational Standards" and our purpose is to try to change the psychology of the public in their demands for credit inflation which is supplanting real educational values.

In too many cases we find that pupils in their feverish desire to get to high school resort to every possible excuse and trick to slide thru the grades without becoming proficient.

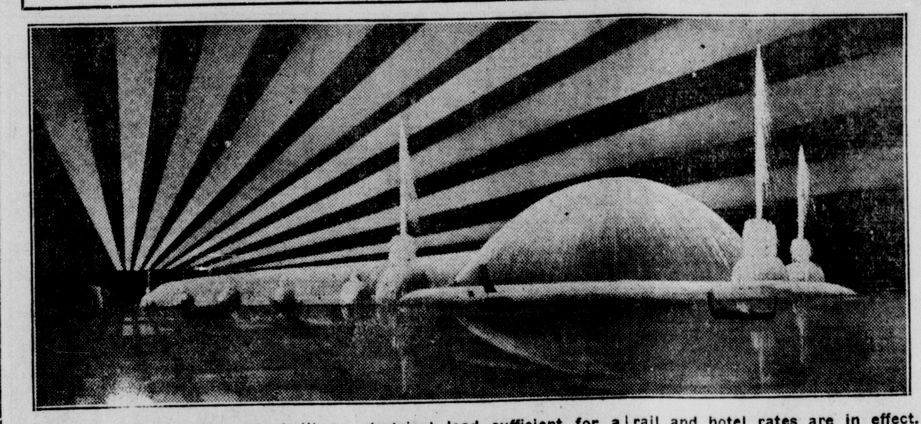

They seem to think that the high school teacher can and will miraculously educate them and transform them into a dynamo of educational efficiency even when their actual standard of achievement is not any beter than a normal sixth grade pupil. In this they will be profoundly disappointed.

Parents sometime make it embarrassing on teachers when they do not promote pupils who have failed to meet the proper standards. Parents who do this are merely placing their children under a strain and handicap for those who enter high school before they have grounded themselves in the fundamentals are sure to find themselves struggling to keep their heads above the water.

The future lives of our children would be infinitely more efficient and happy if they would spend their energy in striving for mastery and breadth in the fundamentals of the elementary grades rather than utilizing their resourcefulness in trying to dodge work, shift rsponsibility, and GET BY without producing the goods.

We hasten to offer our congratulations to Miss Geneva Calvin and Lenzie Beck, who were lately united in marriage. Mrs. Beck has taught in the Fairview school for the past two years and will retain her position there for the coming year.

World's Largest Fountain New Fair Feature

The largest fountain ever built will be the outstanding single feature of the new World's Fair which opens in Chicago May 26. Its flow of water will be enough to supply a city of 1,000,000, and its spectacular lighting, in five colors, will use an electrical load sufficient for a city of 150,000. Fifteen foreign villages, music, fireworks and free entertainment will be among the major attractions of the Fair. There are 84 miles of free exhibits. Cost to visitors will be low. Reduced rail and hotel rates are in effect. Chicago is easily accessible by automobile through fourteen major highways. A program of especial interest with music, parades, fireworks and special features has been arranged for opening day.

FEW COUNTRY NEGROES EVER PASS FIRST GRADE

Washington, May 7.—Nearly one-third of the negro pupils in country schools never go beyond the first grade—this was one of the "sobering facts" which the Interior Department Office of Education put up to the negro and white educational and civic leaders assembled here for the National Conference on the Education of Negroes.

Some of the other problems outlined were:

About 1,00,000 negro boys and girls of school age are not in school.

Illiteracy in 17 Southern States and the District of Columbia is 16.3 per cent among negroes, 1.5 per cent among whites.

Eighty per cent of the negro population, which totals nearly 12,000,000, is in 15 Southern States.

The average term in schools for negroes is 134 days; the national average school term is 171 days.

Eleven Southern States in 1930 spent an average of $12.57 annually for the education of each enrolled negro pupil, as against $44.31 for each white pupil, and a national average of $99 per pupil.

Nearly 40 per cent of the rural negro schools use benches with no desks.

Two hundred and thirty counties in 15 States have no high school facilities for negroes.

More than 30,000 negro public school teachers are needed to bring standards of negro education up to the national average.

The conference was called by Secretary of the Interior Ickes. Dr. George F. Zook, Federal Commissioner of Education, is chairman of the conference.

The first non-Catholic church organized in the territory of the Mississippi River was a Baptist church. In 1805 the Towappity Baptist church came into existence. This was in the vicinity of Cape Girardeau In the year following, the Bethel Baptist church was organized in the same neighborhood and had a rather flourishing and prosperous period for the years immediatley following. In 1834 the Baptist people of the State formed their general body, known as the Missouri Baptist General Association. The Centennial celebration of this organization will be held in St. Louis next October. In 1844 a movement was launched for the founding of a Baptist college by Missouri Baptists. This movement was delayed for a little while, but in 1849 William Jewell college was started as a result of these effort.—William Jewell Bulletin.

$10,000,000 STATE BOND ISSUE

for

MISSOURI'S ELEEMOSYNARY AND PENAL INSTITUTIONS

Some of the Reasons

1—OVERCROWDED, FIRETRAPS—MISSOURI ELEEMOSYNARY AND PENAL INSTITUTIONS ARE DISGRACEFULLY OVERCROWDED. MOST OF THEM ARE FIRETRAPS. The Gary Survey Commission report of 1929 revealed that. Conditions are now worse than ever.

2—REPAIR BILLS MOUNT ANNUALLY. Repair bills alone, in order to keep the buildings habitable, are almost enough to pay the interest and principal on a $10,000,000 bond issue. These repair bills the taxpayer must pay, of course.

3—NO INCREASE IN TAXES—It is doubtful, according to figures compiled by the STATE TAX COMMISSION, whether the proposed bond issue will involve any increase of taxes whatever. At the outside the increase would not exceed 13 cents per $1,00 assessed valuation, or 1 cent an acre on average farm land EVERY THREE YEARS.

4—FEDERAL P W A GRANT—By voting the bonds now we will obtain a Federal P W A grant of $3,400,000 absolutely free.

5—HOW MONEY WILL BE SPENT—Every dollar of the $10,000,000 state bond money, as well as the Federal grant, will be expended under strict U. S. government inspection and control. In addition, the elected state officials, who will form the State Building Commission, as provided by law, have promised to appoint a BI-PARTISAN SUPERVISORY COMMITTEE composed of high-class citizens who will serve in an advisory capacity in all matters affecting the building program.

6—NO POLITICS. The movement for relief of our outgrown and overcrowded institutions, of which every Missourian is ashamed, was inaugurated under a Republican administration by former Gov. Henry S. Caulfield. It is being carried out by a Democratic administration under Gov. Guy B. Park. Prominent men and women, Democrats and Republicans, alike, are working side by side for the State bond issue.

7—WILL EMPLOY THOUSANDS. The adoption of this proposal will give employment to thousands of men and supplement the farm and business recovery now under way. The same $13,400,000 will be respent 25 times a year.

8—CHARITY AND HUMANITY. It will provide adequate care for nearly 15,000 mental defectives, tubercular patients and prisoners, charges of the state, who are now herded like animals under conditions which preclude proper treatment or reform. From this point of view, as Gov. Park recently said: "This bond issue is the greatest humanitarian movement ever undertaken in Missouri. . . . The people incarcerated in these institutions are flesh of our flesh, blood of our blood, and we are our brothers' keepers."

FIRE WOULD CAUSE HOLOCAUST—"On some stormy night, a fire—long overdue—will start in some of these buildings and a holocaust, which will bring shame to every Missourian—will surely occur."—Governor Park.

SITUATION CRITICAL—"Over-crowding is such that the situation is, and for a long time has been, very critical."—Former Gov. Caulfield.

DANGER OF INSURRECTION—"The great danger from the present over-crowded condition of our prisoners is that insurrections may occur at any time and the lives of our officers be jeopardized."—Governor Park.

More Mileage and More Power now possible for motorists through new "Super-charging" process developed by SHELL

KANSAS CITY... "With Super Shell my Ford doesn't need a start to level out Kansas City hills." —Jo Ann Bucher

THINK what it means to you to have up to 6900 extra firing charges packed into every gallon of gasoline you buy!

Firing charges make your car move! Added firing charges are like a bonus — a free gift of power.

Shell laboratories developed a new process which "super-charges" gasoline by actually changing the chemical structure.

See what this super-charged gasoline does in your car. You can feel the difference — you can measure the difference — in extra miles per gallon.

MOTHER'S DAY SERVICES PLANNED BY CHURCHES

Most of Sikeston's churches will devote at least one Sunday service to programs pertaining to Mother's Day. Ministers will honor mothers in their sermons and special music will be given by church members.

Perhaps the most elaborate program has been planned by Mrs. Leslie Garrison for the First Baptist Church. At the morning services, the church choir will sing "Mother's Prayers" and a sextet, composed of Grace and Ella Lee Evans, Virginia Martin, Thelma Lee, Vernetta Smith and Mrs. Gladys Higgins, will sing "Songs That Mother Loved".

Following this, Jewell Allen will give a short talk on the origin of Mother's Day. Then two musical readings will be given: "Rock Me to Sleep, Mother", by Mrs. Garrison and "The Answer" by Neva Mae Taylor.

At the conclusion of this part of the program, a playlet, "Bear Ye One Another's Burdens" will be presented as part of a Statewide contribution on Mother's Day of each year to the Missouri Baptist Hospital in St. Louis. Two red cross nurses will be at the church doors to receive offerings to be used in charity work done by members of the hospital staff.

The following persons will be in the play: Nurse, Freda Lankford; others, Lela Stacy and Marguerite Bryant; crippled child, Mary Louise Jones; another child, Mary Ann Lankford.

At the Christian church the Rev. R. M. Talbert will preach a sermon appropriate to Mother's Day at the morning services, which will begin at 10:45 o'clock. In addition to a short play, "Mothers of Yesterday", the program will include a solo, "Mother o' Mine", sung by Mrs. Moore Greer and a duet, "Mother", by Roger Bailey and Mrs. Fred Kirby.

The mothers will have charge of the Sunday school program at the Church of the Nazarene, and awards will be made to the oldest mother and to the mother with the most children.

The Rev. E. H. Orear will preach on "Mother's Day" and a program of special music will be given at the morning services of the Methodist church. In the evening, the Rev. Mr. Orear will talk on "High Points of the General Conference of Southern Methodist Episcopal Churches", discussing why Bishop Jas. Cannon wasn't retired.

At the Presbyterian church the Rev. D. D. Ellis will speak on "The Christian Home" at the morning services. There will be special music and each mother present will be given a white rose.

Members of the Miner Baptist church will gather at the church at 12 o'clock noon for a basket dinner. At 2 o'clock, they will have a special Mother's Day program.

MAKES YOU LOSE UNHEALTHY FAT

A young woman of Norwich, Conn., writes: "I lost 16 lbs. with my first bottle of Kruschen. Being on night duty it was hard to sleep days but now since I am taking Kruschen I sleep plenty, eat as usual and lose fat, too."

To take off fat—take one-half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—one bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but little get it at White's or Galloway's or any drug store in America. If their first bottle fails to convince you this is the SAFE and HARMLESS way to lose fat—your money gladly returned.

Don't accept anything but Kruschen because you must reduce safely. -5

Four different cities have occupied the site of the city of Jericho, 15 miles from Jerusalem according to excavations made at this point.

It has been estimated that there are 16,852,000 radio receiving sets in use in this country.

FORMER RESIDENT HERE ACTIVE IN CHARITY WORK

Mrs. Clara Larson of St. Louis, who with her daughter, Mrs. Milton Haas, formerly a resident of Sikeston, has been very active in charity work, recently arranged for patients of the St. Louis City Sanitarium, the City Infirmary, and the St. Louis Training School for feeble minded children to attend, without charge, a circus given by members of the St. Louis Police Relief Association.

Mrs. Larson also arranged, with aid of the board of education, for bus transportation to the circus for the 1000 patients who attended.

"Literally, a thousand thanks are due to the officers and members of the St. Louis Police Relief Association—that is, a 'thank you' apiece from the thousand patients who were their guests at the wonderful Police Circus recently", Mrs. Larson wrote in a letter published in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. "You can imagine what a thrill the event gave to these people, committed to the monotony of institutional life".

Sikeston Easily Beats Bluff

Poplar Bluff took a good lacing at the hands of the local golfers Sunday on the local grounds—39 to 10. The local golf enthusiasts were expecting a tight match, as Sikeston's junior golfers were objected to by the Bluff players and were therefore left out of the local macth. Lumsden, Lee and Alexander, junior members of the club, were leading the league in low score.

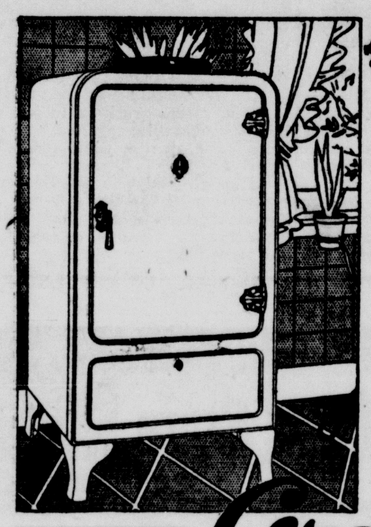

In Sunday's match, Lyman Bowman and Bill Malone were the star shooters, the former with a 73 and the latter with a 74. Scott with a 76 and Kirk with a 77 were not far behind. Stallcup was the other local player to come in under 80, he having a 79 for the day. Spaulding of Poplar Bluff was the only visiting player to get in under 80, Spaulding shoting a 74 for the 18 holes. Only two matches were won by the Bluff players out of eighteen matches.

PROSPECTS ON THE UP-TURN

Prospects for agricultural prosperity show many evidences of improvement says O. R. Johnson, chairman of the agricultural economics department of the Missouri College of Agriculture. The important item of improvement is the increase in urban employment which does two things; it gives these re-employed workers wages with which to buy, and it adds their product to industrial output which will tend to give farm products an improved exchange relationship.

The Agricultural Adjustment Administration is making every effort to enable farmers to control their production. Their efforts in wheat, cotton, corn, hogs and dairy production will no doubt have, as they have already had in some of these products, a definite effect in limiting agricultural production or curbing the expansion of that production. This should be a longtime strengthening factor in farm product prices. These prices have clearly improved within the last year. It is estimated that agricultural income increased between 35 and 50 per cent this last season over the preceding year. With production control reasonably successful there is every reason to believe that this income will continue to rise, although the improvement from now on should be less rapid than that occurring since the turn from the low point.

There is little question but that while agricultural income is improving, the cost of things the farmer must buy has also been increasing as a result of factory wage increases which have been more rapid than increases in factory production. This makes the farm cost of living higher, it is true, but two or three of the most important cost items for the farmer have not joined in this increase. These cost items are taxes and interest on the mortgage. For the most part these are the biggest single items in the farm expense account, and these items have in general decreased rather than increased. If we figure the purchasing power of the farmer's income in terms not only of what he buys but also of taxes and interest which he must pay, we will probably find that his purchasing power is increasing with considerable rapidity.

We must not overlook the important effect which agricultural refinancing has had on the farmer's expense account. Loans have only been refinanced for a principal sum not larger than the original loan, and in many cases smaller, while the rate of interest has generally been reduced. At the same time there has been a distinct reduction in the tax bill, if not thru actual reduction in rate of taxes, then through a real reduction in assessed valuations. This is a distinct gain in purchasing power for the farmer.

With this improvement the farmer is again faced with a decision whether he will take this improvement and translate it into a more reasonable standard of living or whether he will hold his living standard down to the old level and translate this improvement entirely into increased land values. The latter course is the one we have always taken and probably the wrong one, since it has been responsible for making it more difficult for us to adjust to new price conditions in times of economic depression.

There was a fellow at Calf Ribs who last month decided to reform and join the church. It was a serious step, as he knew that right away he would have to quit selling second-hand-cars.—Commercial Appeal.

More LIVE POWER per gallon

More Live Power per dollar, too, for there's no extra charge for Standard Red Crown Superfuel

More Live Power per gallon means that your car will get off to a faster start, take tough hills more easily and hold high speed hour after hour without hard labor for your engine.

How more Live Power is made available and usable in Standard Red Crown Superfuel is a more involved story. It is accomplished in the refining. Heavier, slower parts of an alréady excellent gasoline are converted into faster, keener fractions. . . But you are most interested in the result. And the result, as evidenced in your car, will be better performance—markedly better.

May we suggest that you drive in where you see the familiar Red Crown? Make your usual outlay for a supply of gasoline—for Superfuel sells at the price of "regular". We believe this small investment will lead to a big return in your motoring enjoyment this summer.

Tune in—"Standard's Live Power Parade"—KMOX—8:45—9:00 P. M. Tues.—Thurs.—Sat.

MAY 26 "POPPY DAY"

Sikeston will be called upon to honor the World War dead and give aid to the war's living victims by wearing memorial poppies on May 26. This day, the Saturday before Memorial Day, will be "Poppy Day" throughout the United States and will be generally observed by the wearing of the little red flower of Flanders' Fields.

Observance of "Poppy Day" here will be directed by the American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. T. C. Dye, president of the local Auxiliary Unit has announced. The women of the Auxiliary will distribute poppies on the streets and receive contributions for the Auxilary's welfare and relief work among the diabled veterans and their families.

A large supply of the poppies has been ordered from the poppy work shop in St. Louis, located in the Missouri Pacific Building, where disabled veterans have been given employment during the winter and spring making the little paper flowers. Making the paper flokers offers a means of employment to veterans unable to do other work and not only brings them money for the support of themselves and families, but aids in their rehabilitation by giving them beneficial and interesting work. The poppies are made in government hospitals and in special poppy work rooms maintained by the Auxiliary. This year 58 different poppy making centers have been operated in forty States. The employment is restricted to men unable to do other types of work and preference is given those with families to support. The work is directed in such a manner that it will aid in the physical and mental rehabilitation of the veterans, as well as giving them financial benefits.

The little act of wearing a poppy touches the individual more closely than large public ceremonies in which he is only a spectator and awakes a realization of the individual responsibility to the nation, so greatly needed at this time.

"Poppy Day" also gives everyone an opportunity to share in the vast work which the American Legion and Auxiliary are doing for the disabled men, their families and the families of the dead.

From City To One "Hoss" Town

I've traveled up and I've traveled down, but I've never yet seen anything, except a one "hoss" town, park its car on end. The biggest fool thing under the shining sun, that I've ever seen done, is for a city to pretend to be a city, and block it's narrow streets, until cars in the center meet, just to be a country "hick". Oh, it gives me a pain; with nothing in the world to gain, we go and spend a lot for paint; the daddy of this folly ought to be hit with a brick. Our streets already narrow from end to end, we, for paint, a lot of money to spend, to make them narrower still. If you would go in or out, you've got to go 'round about, giving the driver going or coming a thrill. For I'll be "daddled", as sure as you are born, it don't matter how much you blow your horn, the fellow going in or out is "gwine" to go. If you have good brakes you must stop your car, for land sakes it won't do you any good to blow. Time lost going in and going out and going 'round about; traffic held up on every hand. If you don't be careful Si and take your time getting by, on some fellows rear end you will land. I've traveled up and I've traveled down, but I've never yet seen anything, except a one "hoss" town, parks its cars on end.—UMAGUESS.

It was distressing news and regretable news that comes to us over the Associated Press wires that Jas. A. Reed has announced as a candidate for United States Senator on the Democratic ticket. It was he more than any living man that harassed Woodrow Wilson to his grave. He has already knifed President Roosevelt and his administration and it will be his delight, if elected, to assassinate the things the President is trying to do to put the country back to normalcy, whatever that is. To us, he is unbearable and unbelievable and we can't see him in the primary or general election if he should be the nominee.

ADVANCE REJECTS ISSUE FOR WATER PLANT

At a special electoin held Tuesday, residents of Advance rejected by 13 votes a proposition to issue $22,000 in bonds to be used in constructing a city water system.

A two-thirds majority was necessary for passage of the issue. The unofficial count credited 161 with favoring it and 87 with opposing. At another time the same bond issue was defeated by only 3 votes.

It was thought that the government would have lent $7000 to complete the required $29,000 for a plant if the proposition had been approved.

TRUCK OVERTURNS

An Anheuser-Busch beer truck, belongnig to a Hayti branch of the concern, turned over on its side on Highway 61, two miles north of town Wednesday. After it was righted and kegs which had spilled were reloaded, the truck proceeded south.

COLLINS RELEASED AFTER PAYING FINE

Fred Collins, who, on April 20, beat Gene Beal on the head with a meat hatchet following a quarrel, pled guilty to charges of common assault and fighting before Judge W. S. Smith Thursday afternoon.

He was sentenced to thirty days in jail, but released, promising good behavior, after he had paid a fine and costs.

Beal is recovering from wounds which he received in the quarrel, during which the hatchet made six deep cuts on his scalp. After he was treated by Dr. Howard Dunaway, who took numerous stitches on his head, he went to his home to recuperate.

Collins, a 25-year-old cook, who was employed at Joyner's Cafe here, stayed in the Scott County jail in Benton until charges were formally made against him.

The four will return here soon.

JAMES' VERSION

As Translated by James Huls, Jr.

News of the Town

Mrs. Van Itty will sponsor several fetes this summer so her daughter will be able to show off some of the clothes she bought while attending college.

The Bogville Bugle and the Town Clarion are at it again. The Bugle editor took issue with the Clarion editor over the posting of the Cat's Paw blackberry thicket.

Ervy Jones, Sr. was making disgusting remarks about Ervy, Jr., who persists in running around late at night and spending money. One of the Sages on the shady side of the street remarked that "experience is the greatest teacher". Ervy, Sr., retorted with "if the fellow concerned doesn't spend too much for education".

Lenzie Lewis named Main Street the 'Boulevard of Broken Dreams" immediately after one of the younger fellows threw a firecracker under a bench full of the Sages slumbering in the shade.

Young Jeremiha Jones remarked that "a fellow ought to know how the other half live" when somebody exclaimed about his lavish lunch of bologna and sardines.

Zeb Potts was about to advance a new philosophy to the Sages when Hez Willert mentioned that very few wise men ever amounted to anything. Zeb left the crowd terribly hurt and went fishing.

BUCKEYE SHOWS TO BE HERE ALL NEXT WEEK

The Buckeye State Shows will exhibit at the corner of South Kingshighway and Kathleen Streets from May 14 to 19 under the auspices of the Henry Melrum Post 114 of the Amercian Legion.

The nightly feature of the show will be the famous Capt. Cunningham, who was brought to this country for the exposition which was held not long ago in Philadelphia. Capt. Cunningham performs, without safety nets, on a tight wire sixty feet above the ground. It is said that this act is the only one of its kind in the United States.

The show will also have numerous exhibitions and rides for the entertainment of both young and old men and women.

RECOVERS STOEN CAR

UNUSUAL FIRE CASUALTIES

Among the thousands of Americans who lost their lives or were badly injured in fire accidents during the past year were many whose misfortunes occurred under unusual circumstances, according to the Fire Casualties Statistics Committee report presented at the recent annual meeting of the National Fire Waste Council by Chairman Paxton Mendelssohn of Detroit.

Of the fatalities listed by the committee from unusual fires were the following:

Fire starting in a davenport in the living room of a two-story frame house ignited the draperies back of the davenport, the flames flashing to all other combustile material in the room, created sufficient heat to draw the wall paper loose from the side walls and ceiling of the room, resulting in a roaring furnace, in which two adults lost their lives. It later developed that several lays of paper covered the walls, a condition constituting a dangerous hazard.

A mother left her five-months old baby in a buggy in the kitchen of their home while she went into an adjoining room. An eighteen-month-old child was left playing nearby. The buggy rolled into the stove, and both children were burned to death.

A young woman died from burns suffered when her lounging pajamas, which had been cleaned with gasoline and which had been hanging on the line for several hours afterwards, ignited when she stepped in front of a stove in which a fire was burning.

A two-year-old child was burned to death when his older sister applied a lighted match to a pool of kerosene in which he was sitting. The children had been playing with the kerosene, and the older child said she did not know it would burn.

A baby carriage burst into flames and became a pyre for a three-month-old baby a few minutes after the child had been placed outside by his mother. The fire is believed to have been caused by small boys playings with matches.

An eight-year-old boy was fatally burned when he threw a lighted match into the gas tank of an unattended tractor.

Among the fire casualties mentioned by Chairman Mendelssohn which resulted in more or less severe injuries were the following:

A mother and her daughter were badly burned when static electricity caused by friction from rubbing silk garments in a pan of gasoline caused an explosion, enveloping the two women in flames, who saved their lives by rushing outside and rolling on the snow-covered ground.

A rather unusual casualty, in which a woman was severely burned as a result of her clothing catching on fire when friction from a broom on the oil-soaked floor of her husband's garage, which she was sweeping, ignited the gasoline fumes in the building.

Seeking a gas leak with a lighted match in her hand, a 71-year-old woman received severe burns about the head and neck when the flame of the match caused an explosion of gas

A young girl was severly burned on the scalp and face when combs in her hair caught fire while she was drying her tresses before an open fire, after washing them

A negro woman was painfully burned when gasoline which she was using for massage purposes, for rheumatism, ignited while she was standing in front of an open fire

Severe burns on the hands and face were sustained by a man who was attempting to light a cigarette, setting fire to the turpentine soaked bandages on his hands

A man was badly burned when a smouldering cigarete butt set fire to the pup tent in which he had camped on the lake.

A woman was seriously burned when a lighted cigarette exploded the fumes from an alcohol still.

Four speakers have been chosen to address guests at the Chamber of Commerce banquet Monday night in honor of Harry C. Blanton, United States District Attorney.

They are Russell Dearmont and Judge Frank Kelly, both of Cape Girardeau, Orville Zimmerman of Kennett, and Robert L. Ward of Caruthersville. All of these men are well-known in political circles and have for numerous years been prominent lawyers.

REED TO RUN AGAIN FOR U. S. SENATE SEAT

Announces in Copyrighted Chicago Story He Will Be Candidate

Chicago, Ill., May 9.—Former Senator James A. Reed of Missouri tonight announced in a copyrighted interview with the Herald and Examiner that he would again seek a seat in the United States Senate.

Here with his bride, the former Nell Donnelly, Kansas City dress manufacturer, the Senator said, according to the newspaper:

"When I voluntarily left the Senate in 1928, no prospect would have tempted me to run again.

"I don't know that I can make the grade this time, but some one has got to tell the people of these United States what is happening to them.

"The Bolsheviks at Washington have us by the throat. And what they are attempting to do, in my judgment, doesn't include the few defensible things of the Moscow regime.

"This AAA stuff of Wallace's (Secretary of Agriculture) can't be adequately described. They tell the farmer he doesn't have to sign up and then they tell him that if he violates some rules he will be penalized".

SEMO TRUCKMEN WILL MEET HERE SATURDAY

A meeting, during which the trucking code will be explained, will be held at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening at the Armory here. All Southeast Missouri truckmen who hau for hire are invited to attend.

The principal speaker at the session will be Frank B. Caughlan of St. Louis, president of the Missouri Truck & Terminal Association. S. E. Wilkinson of St. Louis, an official of the organization, will also talk.

The trucking code regulates drivers' hours and wages, and prices for hauling all commodities and forces truckers to establish a bookkeeping system and to file a tariff with the State code authority.

Byron E. Finley, a special representative of the State Truck & Terminal Association, was here Thursday to arrange details for the meeting.

GLORIFIED SHORTCAKES

Shortcakes to most of us mean those delectable strawberry shortcakes that grandmother used to serve — rich mounds of biscuit dough, rosy with crushed strawberries and topped with whipped or thick yellow cream. There's really nothing else quite like them.

However we've been experimenting with the idea and have found that all sorts of delicious shortcakes can be made along this same basic idea. Luncheon shortcakes, hot biscuits split and buttered and then smothered in creamed chicken or tuna fish. Supper shortcakes, popovers filled with shrimp a la Newburg. (Men can't get enough of these shortcakes.) And dozens and make this succulent dessert a year-ground instead of a seasonal dish.

Just in case your grandmother never served you a strawberry shortcake made with berries plucked when still sprinkled with dew, or if she did, kept her recipe a deep dark secret, we've included our favorite recipe here. And here's a banana shortcake that the children will adore. The Hawaiian shortcake can be served any time of year and is a boon to home-managers when guests drop in unexpectedly and stay on and on with that lean and hungry look that means they really could be persuaded to stay to dinner if invited.

With these recipes as a start you'll be able to concoct all sorts of tempting desserts for your family and guests.

Strawberry Shortcake

2 cups flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
3-4 teaspoon salt
1-2 cup shortening
1-2 cup milk
4 tablespoons sugar

Mix and sift dry ingredients and cut in shortening. Add liquid enough to make a soft dough. Divide the dough in half and roll or pat each half into the same size and shape. Place one layer on a greased pan, butter top slightly and top with other layer. Bake in a hot (450) oven for 15-20 minutes. Split and cover with crushed, sweetened strawberries. Place other layer on top and cover with more crushed strawberries. Top with whipped cream and garnish with whole berries.

Banana Shortcake

Gingerbread
1-2 cup sugar
1 cup molasses
1-2 cup shortening
1 teaspoon ginger
1-4 teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1-4 teaspoon allspice
2 eggs
1 teaspoon soda
2 1-2 cups flour
1-4 cup hot water

Place molasses, sugar, shortening and spices in a mixing bowl and set in a warm place until shortening is soft. Beat thoroughly. Add hot water in which soda has been dissolved and add the beaten egg yolks. Sift in the flour and fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in a greased pan in a moderate (350) oven 30-40 minutes.

Cut gingerbread into 2-inch squares. Split squares and spread with crushed banana to which a small amount of whipped cream has been added. Top with crushed bananas and whipped cream.

Hawaiian Shortcake

Crisp Waffles
2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons sugar
4 tablespoons melted butter
3 eggs
1-2 teaspoon salt

Sift measured flour, add baking powder, sugar and salt. Combine egg yolks, milk and butter. Add to dry ingredients, blending lightly until smooth. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites, and bake in a hot waffle iron.

Place a generous layer of crushed pineapple between two hot crisp waffles and top with whipped cream.

Fruit Shortcake

Sponge Cake
3-4 cup sifted flour
3-4 cup sifted sugar
1-4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon baking powder
4 eggs

Combine baking powder, salt and eggs in bowl. Place over smaller bowl of hot water and heat, adding sugar gradually until mixture becomes thick and lemon-colored. Remove bowl from hot water. Fold in flour and vanilla. Line baking sheet with greased, waxed paper, pour in mixture and bake in a hot (400) oven 12 minutes. Cool and cut in 3-inch squares.

Mix equal amounts of sliced bananas and orange pulp together and chill. Put fruit mixture between two layers of sponge cake and on top of cake. Top whole with mixed cream.

CHAPTER IV

FOREWORD

After five years of a happy marriage, Mary is deeply disappointed and hurt when Lord Rexford refuses to take her with him when he goes to America on a short business trip. His Aunt Hetty, Lady Riversleigh, who despite her age is gay and unconventional, and lives on the Riviera, meets Mary for the first time as Philip is leaving, and prevails upon Mary to go to Cannes with her.

The trip to Cannes was a delight to Mary. Even crossing the Channel when it was choppier than usual, was a joy. Lady Hetty was a marvelous traveling companion. It was impossible for any moment to be dull when she was around.

"I don't know when I've acted like this", said Mary as their train for Cannes pulled out of the Paris station. "Not since I left New York —in all the last five years put together have I laughed so much as I have in these two days since you came into my life."

"High time you did" answered Lady Riversleigh.

"Do you know, Aunt Hetty" said Mary giving her a swift kiss, "you're much younger than I am."

"Because I am wise. I know I was meant to be gay and so I do whatever I feel like doing. But you're coming back to the fold, dear. You'll be positively wild in a day or two — and then, what a time we are going to have."

But even she, whose chief joy in life was shocking conventional society, might have sent Mary back to London, then and there, if she had known just what lay ahead of them.

Their suite was a beautiful one and Mary, who had never been in the south of France before, was enchanted with the view of the Mediterrannean from their balcony and the colorful life on the beach.

"I could just sit here forever and look at it" she said to Lady Hetty.

"Sit!" scoffed Lady Hetty. "You can do that in London. We didn't come here to look at scenery. We're going to be a part of it. Come on. We're off to join the gang at the merriest, noisiest bar in all the world —and take my word for it, I know them all. There's enough to look at there — and plenty of drinks thrown in."

Aunt Hetty's popularity was proved by the shouts of welcome and joy which greeted them when they entered the bar. Her first glance told Mary that the place was all Lady Riversleigh had said it would be and at once she was accepted by the merry crowd as one of them. After five years of moving in the most conventional society of London, she was surprised to find how much she felt at home with all these strange people.

"I feel as if I were Mary Watts, of New York again—not Lady Rexford of London" she said to herself as she perched herself on a stool at the bar and lifted her first drink. She clinked glasses with Lady Riversleigh and said: "You were right about not wasting time sitting on the balcony. I feel now I could stay here forever."

"Not a chance" said Aunt Hetty "We're off to a party Nina Perlalaisse is giving — and that will be a party worth while, I promise you. She'd feel disgraced if every one she gave weren't absolutely mad. One more round and then we're off — if that Tommy Trent ever shows up.

"That—who?" gasped Mary.

"Tommy Trent — the American I dote on most next to you — and I just naturally 'take to' all Americans."

"Tommy—of all people" laughed Mary. "I had no idea he was here —but one of the best things about Tommy is that no one, himself included, ever knows just where he will be from one minute to the next."

"You know that delightful mad cap?"

"Know him? List to a secret, Aunt Hetty. He used to look my way in New York."

"Did what?"

"Made a pass at me" said Mary. "Where is he?"

"He's in bed with his miseries" said a young man named Erskine. "Some party last night — I just came from his room. Nobody can dynamite him out of his bed, at the present moment."

"Is that so?" demanded Mary pertly. "Just lead me to that room and I'll wager anything you like he'll be in this gay midst before anyone has missed us."

"The only flaw in your scheme" objected Aunt Hetty, "is that then you won't come to the party. He bends everybody to his will — he's too rich and too attractive — so it goes without saying he's too spoiled."

"I'm not bending — this season" said Mary. Then to Erskine: "Come on, whoever you are — lead me to him. You can be the chaperone."

They found Tommy a woeful object. A lounging robe was over his pajamas and a wet towel was bound around his head which he was holding in his hands.

"Am I seeing things" he cried when Mary came into the room Then, as if suddenly galvanized into life, he slapped the towel on the floor, ran to her and threw his arms around her.

"Mary! Of all people! To find you here! The one thing in the world I need at this precise moment of my none too-worth-while existence. Corn in Egypt! — an oasis in the desert! — a treat for sore eyes! What brought you here?"

"Explanations later. Now you hustle into some clothes. I'm here to take you to a party . Aunt Hetty is fuming that you stood her up."

"No sooner said than done" he cried joyously. "I'll break my own well-known record for a presto-change-o effect. A glorious vision will stand before you before you'll believe it possible."

He was as good as his word and in a few minutes, they were off to join the crowd at the bar. Both of them talked all the time and their laughter rang out like that of happy children. Erskine had been left behind.

"We shook him all right" said Tommy. "He's a good egg, but he doesn't belong on a grand reunion like this. Which makes me think— why do you go barging off with the gang? Let's you and me go for a wild dash alone. Still like speed?"

"In its place" said Mary. "But I promised Aunt Hetty to bring you back. She said you'd try to swerve me from the path of duty. She evidently knows you and all your tricks But I'm an honorable woman—so on to join the old guard."

"Where'er thou goest, I will follow" agreed Tommy.

Aunt Hetty had evidently been fuming, as Mary had said, but she was all smiles when Mary followed by Tommy came up to the bar.

"Score one for you" she said to Mary. "One more drink and then off to the wildest party you ever saw."

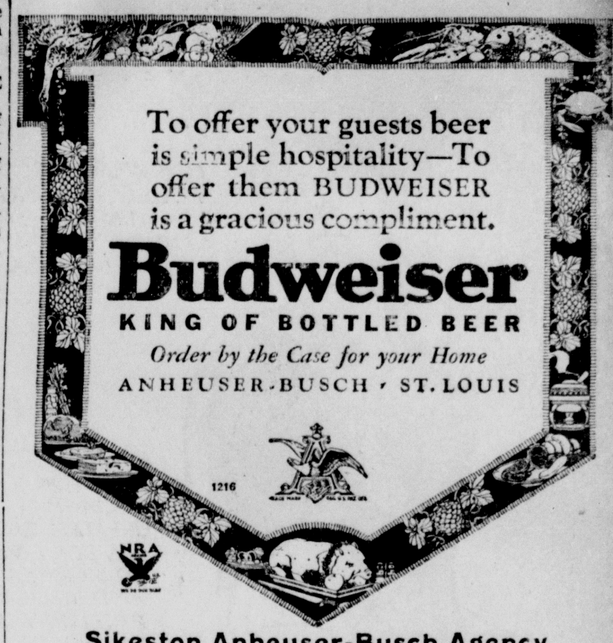

Suddenly—she did not know why —Mary felt uneasy, even a little scared. She put her arm around Aunt Hetty and whispered to her: "I don't believe I'll go, if you don't mind. I don't seem to be in the mood for it."

"A little warm milk" said Aunt Hetty in a mocking voice, "and a long warm letter to that prim nephew of mine and a nice uplifting book. Did I bring you here for such as that? No backsliding now. Forward march! That means everybody" she cried in a loud tone.

Mary hesitated for a moment Then, telling herself she was a silly little fool to be acting so, she let Aunt Hetty and Tommy link their arms through hers and went out to the waiting cars. But there was a foreboding in her heart.

"Am I seeing things," he cried when Mary came into the room.

UNUSUAL FACTS REVEALED—by "Movie Spotlight"

Rate of Death From Aotomobile Accidents Much Greater at Night

During the normal daylight hours of 6 a. m. to 6 p. m. last year 413,890 automobile accidents resulted in 13,670 deaths. During the normal hours of darkness from 6 p. m. to 6 a. m., 342,610 accidents resulted in 16,230 deaths.

The rate of death per accident was 43.5 per cent worse during the hours of darkness than during the hours of daylight. Automobile accidents during hours of darkness are more serious in their consequences than those of day-time occurrence because cars at night are being driven too fast for the existing range of visibility afforded by head lamps, statistics of The Travelers Insurance Company bring out.

A further indication of this fact is to be found in a comparison of deaths in the four rush hours of the morning and the four rush hours of the evening. From 6 to 10 a. m. deaths numbered 2550 last year. From 5 to 9 p. m. deaths numbered 9720. The deaths in the four evening hours exceeded the record of the four morning hours by 281 per cent.

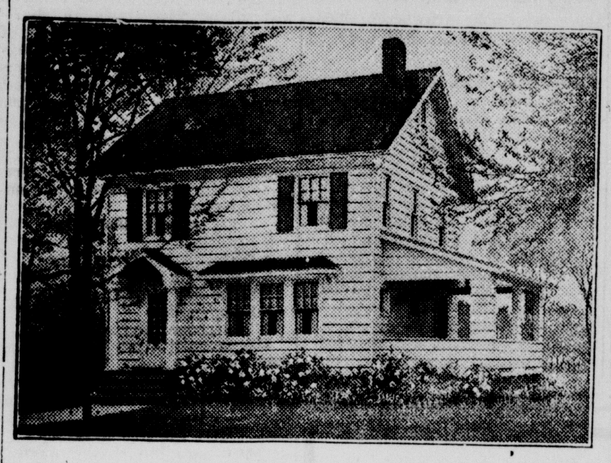

From 1 to 6 a. m. automobile accidents numbered 55,150 and deaths 3100 last year. The rate of death per acicdent in this five-hour period was 42 per cent worse than the average of all accidents. For every hour of darkness last year the rates of death per accident were worse than the average, and in only the two hours of daylight from 6 a. m. to 8 a. m. were the rates of death per accident worse than the average . These facts indicate that drivers and pedestrians should be afraid of the dark.

per accident was 118 per cent greater than the average for all accidents combined, and was 167 per cent greater than the death rate per accident between street intersections. Just another example of the high price of too much speed.

On curves the death rate per accident was 126 per cent greater than the average for all accidents combined. Yet drivers continue to try to pass on curves. At railroad crossings the death rate per accident was nearly 70 per cent worse than the average for all acicdents combined. This experience is regarded as another tribute to the pagan of haste, or too much speed for time and place.

Between street intersections and at street intersections 573,200 accidents last year resulted in 14,320 deaths. Between rural intersections and on highways 139,880 accidents resulted in 11,130 deaths. The rate of death per accident on the highways was 219 per cent greater than on city streets. Speed does not pay, is the fact brought out by such figures on the automobile accident situation in this country last year.

Consult Your Local Dealers For Correct Building Estimates

Here is an excellent example of the New England Colonial style of architecture, in all frame construction and with such modifications as are required to adapt it to modern standards and tastes. The house is a simple, practically square two-story with gable type roof.

At the side of the front there is an entrance hall opening into a long living room at the right. At one side of this living room is a fireplace and a door opening onto the porch At the far end of the living room the stairway to the second floor rises directly from the room.

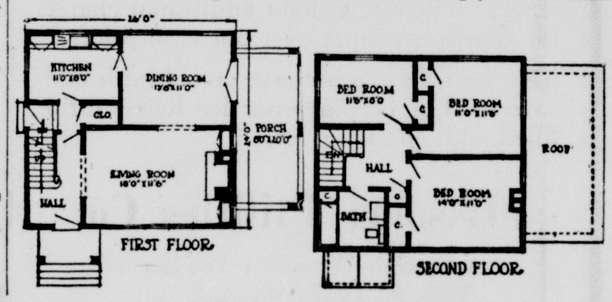

An arched opening connects the living room with the dining room, which is at the other side of the house and off of which opens the breakfast room. There are also doors from the dining room into the kitchen, which is placed just at the side of the dining room.

The kitchen itself is compactly arranged to facilitate the housework. At one side of the kitchen a door leads to a small rear entry and this also leads to the basement stairs.

The upper floor contains three bedrooms and a bath. These bedrooms are all of good size and ecah is provided with a closet equipped with the most modern type of clothes hanging devices, which greatly increases the capacity of the closet. All the second floor rooms are grouped about a central hall and the bedrooms are all conveniently close to the bathroom. The location in which your house is to be built is almost as important as building it. The particular size lot, with the particular frontage or natural advantages which you want may not be available to you for several reasons. The kind of neighborhood, the distance from transportation, the conditions as regards paving, sewer, gas and electricity are some of the things that will govern your selection of a homesite. So we say, pick out the place you want to build before you attempt to choose a house plan.

Having done that and with the lot in mind, try to find a house that will fit it. If it is a narrow lot then you must have a narrow house; if it is a shallow lot, then you must find a house that is not too deep from front to back but one that will not merely go on your lot but will leave a little room for a back yard and perhaps for a flower or vegetable garden, too. It is only by using a complete plan, too, that you can get a definite estimate on the cost of building your home. All other figures are but guesses and it is dangerous to guess when building, no matter how experienced a guesser the builder might be.

The proper person to give you a definite, reliable estimate on your home is your local lumber dealer or builder. Consult him, get the benefit of his advice on home building conditions as they obtain in your community. He will tell you and his counsel will be as reliable as any can be, for your permanent satisfaction is his concern and he will see that you get it. Finally, remember that in home building as in everything else you cannot have everything you want. Compromises have to be made somewhere and probably more have to be made when building a home than in anything else. So don't give up to easily. You will find some house which will come as near fitting your specifications as probably any house possibly could and in time you will probably find it fitting them better than you imagined. Build it, begin now to know the pleasure of living in a house suited to your own requirements, and to know the satisfaction of owning your own home.

Norge Breaks All Records

With the shipment of 26,402 electric household refrigerators in April, Norge Corporation exceeded its best previous month's record by 6404 units and set an all time production record. Unfilled orders on hand at the end of the month totalled 34,360 even though four six-hour shifts are being operate at all Norge factories.

Total orders for the first four months of this year exceeded total shipments for the entire year of 1933, by 11 per cent, according to Howard E. Blood, president of the Corporation.

"April deliveries were approximately two and a half times those of the same month last year", said Mr. Blood. "This record was acomplished directly following the record breaking month of March when 19,988 units were shipped. Our factories are running at capacity and there is no apparent slackening in demand".

SPEED DOES NOT PAY. FIGURES ON ACCIDENTS SHOW

Only the rates of death per accident at street intersections and between street intersections were less than the average for all automobile accidents combined in 1933. But the rate of death per accident which occurred between street intersections was 67 per cent worse than at street intersections. This difference can be attributed to the higher speeds which usually prevail betwene intersections, it is shown by statistics on automobile accidents developed by The Travelers Insurance Company.

At rural intersections the death rate per acident exceeded the average for all accidents combined by nearly 20 per cent, and was 144 per cent greater than the death rate per accident at street intersections. The higher speeds which prevail on highways account for this difference.

On highways the rate of death

"When the Public Wills That A Business Shall Grow Great"

When a co-operative business extends into thirty-five states with a membership reaching well up toward the two hundred and fifty thousand mark and continues to increase and extend its service year after year, two facts are self-evident.

The first is that the public, by approving the service, has W I L L E D that the organization behind it shall continue to serve, and shall grow great because of its service.

The second is that the course of the organization itself is chartered by experience, resourcefulness and sound business judgment — a management that in today's operation will prepare for the exigencies of tomorrow.

Proposed Amendment to the Constitution of Missouri

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 1.

Adding Section 44d to Article IV.

(Submitted by the General Assembly.)

Proposed amendment authorizing $10,000,000 bond issue of State of Missouri for construction of buildings and additions to and repairing buildings at penal and eleemosynary institutions.

JOINT AND CONCURRENT RESOLUTION submitting to the qualified voters of the State of Missouri an amendment to Article IV of the Constitution of Missouri, to authorize the General Assembly to contract a debt or liability on behalf of the State of Missouri, and to issue bonds of the State of Missouri to an amount not exceeding Ten Million Dollars ($10,000,000) for the purpose of repairing, remodeling or rebuilding, or repairing, remodeling and rebuilding state buildings and properties at all or any of the eleemosynary or penal institutions of this state, for building additions thereto, and additional buildings where necessary, to be submitted to the voters at the next general election after the adoption of this resolution or at a special election to be called, at the discretion of the Governor, prior thereto.

Be it resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that:

At the general election to be held on the Tuesday next following the first Monday in November, 1934, or at a special election to be called by the Governor, in his discretion, prior to such general election, there shall be submitted to the electors of this State, for their approval or rejection, an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Missouri, adding to Article IV thereof, between Section 44c and Section 45, a new section to be known as Section 44d, to read as follows:

Section 44d. In addition to the exceptions made in Sections 44, 44a, 44b and 44c, the General Assembly shall have power to contract or to authorize the contracting of a debt or liability on behalf of the State and to issue bonds or other evidences of indebtedness therefor, not exceeding in the aggregate Ten Million Dollars ($10,000,000), for the purpose of repairing, remodeling or rebuilding, or of repairing, remodeling and rebuilding State buildings and properties at all or any of the eleemosynary or penal institutions of this State, for building additions thereto and additional buildings where necessary; such bonds to bear interest at a rate not exceeding five per centum (5%) per annum, payable semi-annually, and maturing not later than thirty-five (35) years from their date. Said bonds shall be issued by the State Board of Fund Commissioners in such amounts, from time to time, as may be necessary to carry on the building program herein provided for. The proceeds of the sale or sales of any bonds issued hereunder, together with any funds granted by or otherwise received from any agency of the Federal Government in aid of the purposes herein specified, shall be paid into the state treasury and be credited to a fund to be designated the "State Building Fund," and shall thereupon stand appropriated, without legislative action, for said purposes and for the payment of all expenses incidental thereto.

The proceeds of the sale of the Ten Million Dollars ($10,000,000) of bonds herein authorized shall be expended for the purpose of repairing, remodeling or rebuilding any of the public buildings of the State of Missouri devoted to eleemosynary and penal purposes, and for building additions thereto, and additional buildings where necessary.

The said bonds and the interest thereon shall be paid out of the State Building Bond Interest and Sinking Fund, which is hereby created and which fund is to be provided by the levy and collection of a direct annual tax upon all taxable property within the State and from the levy and collection of any special tax or taxes which may be authorized by the General Assembly and by it directed to be applied to the payment of interest and maturing principal of said bonds. If at any time after the issuance of any of the said bonds it shall become apparent to the State Auditor that there will not be sufficient monies in said State Building Bond Interest and Sinking Fund for the payment of the principal and interest maturing and accruing on said bonds during the next succeeding calendar year, it shall be the duty of the State Auditor, annually, on or before the first day of July, to determine the rate of taxation necessary to be levied upon all taxable property within the State to raise the amount of money needed for that year to pay the principal and interest of said bonds maturing and accruing in the next succeeding year, taking into consideration available funds, delinquencies and costs of collection. And the Auditor shall annually certify the rate of taxation so determined, to the clerk of the county court of each county, and to the assessor or other officer in the City of St. Louis, whose duty it shall be to make up and certify the tax books wherein are extended the ad valorem state taxes. It shall be the duty of said clerks and the said assessor or other proper officer in the City of St. Louis to extend upon the tax books the taxes to be collected, and to certify the same to the collectors of the revenue of their respective counties and of the City of St. Louis, who shall collect such taxes at the same time and in the same manner and by the same means as are hereafter be provided for the collection of state and county taxes, and pay the same into the state treasury. All funds paid into the State Building Bond Interest and Sinking Fund shall be and stand appropriated without legislative action to the payment of principal and interest of the said bonds, there to remain until paid out in discharge of the principal of said bonds and the interest accruing thereon, and no part of said fund shall be used for any other purpose so long as any of the principal of said bonds and the interest thereon shall be unpaid. If at any time the balance in said State Building Bond Interest and Sinking Fund should be insufficient to pay accruing interest or maturing principal of said bonds, the Board of Fund Commissioners shall direct the State Auditor and the State Treasurer to transfer on their books from the State Revenue Fund to said State Building Bond Interest and Sinking Fund the sum required for said purposes, or either of them, and such sum so transferred shall be reimbursed to the State Revenue Fund whenever there may be a balance in the said State Building Bond Interest and Sinking Fund in excess of the amount which may then be needed to meet the accruing interest and maturing principal of the said bonds during one year next succeeding.

Those institutions of the State of Missouri to which any of the proceeds of the sale of said bonds may be devoted are those eleemosynary and penal institutions whose buildings are in need of repair or remodeling or in need of being rebuilt or in need of additions or additional buildings.

The General Assembly shall enact such laws as may be necessary to carry this amendment into effect.

Southeast Missouri's Leading Semi-Weekly

VOLUME 22 — SIKESTON, SCOTT COUNTY, MISSOURI FRIDAY MORNING, MAY 11, 1934 — NUMBER 64

THE EDITOR SAYS—

The unpleasant notoriety recently given three Sikeston physicians should be a warning to all physicians who are doing a legitimate practice, to let a dope fiend who throws a fit in the floor in order to get a shot, die and go to hades instead of giving one shot that calls for another. We are told there are a number of narcotic users in Sikeston and vicinity who get their shot from somebody, and this is the reason the Government stool pigeons were sent to Sikeston. Already one of these doctors has been approached and told not to worry as he would see that everything would be all right. The United States District Attorney, whose duty it will be to prosecute these cases, should have any party thrown in jail who even suggest that he dismiss any case until brought to trial, or until satisfied he has no case.

A letter from Chas. W. Green, secretary of the Missouri State Fair, informs us of the selection of Mrs. G. Moore Greer, of Sikeston, as hostess of the Woman's Building during the 1934 State Fair to be held at Sedalia. This is quite an honor bestowed on our fellow townswoman, as well as all Southeast Missouri as this is the first time in the history of the Missouri State Fair that such an honor has come this way. Mrs. Greer is eminently fitted for the position as she has education, common sense, poise and personality that especially fit her for the position. We feel that Mr. Green and the Missouri State Fair are to be congratulated on securing the services of this accomplished matron.

Reports from different directions for Sikeston are very encouraging to the farmer. Corn is growing so fast that you can almost hear it. Gardens never looked better and never so many planted. In town roses are blooming, the spring fever plentiful and high school graduates mailing out commencement invitations. All are hopeful.

To window shop costs nothing and is worth a lot. You can see the styles, the colors and the price without paying out a dime. We enjoy this sport and wish we had the price to buy this article or that article to give to someone to make them happy. Sikeston has some wonderful window displays that please the eye.

Most generally you will find something interesting in The Standard, if not in the news and editorial sections, then in the advertising columns. We feel honored and proud that The Standard carries the bargain messages to our readers and in shopping we feel certain money can be saved by buying from those who seek your patronage.

Complaint has been made to this office that electrical refrigerators have been purchased through the Municipal Light Superintendent at cost plus freight. We know nothabout this, but will say there are six or more mercantile establishments in Sikeston who pay taxes here, who pay merchants taxes and license, and who live here, that handle electric refrigerators of one sort or another and they are entitled to these sales and the profit thereon in order they may pay their bills to the local electric light plant.

Sunday is Mother's Day and every soul who has a Mother living should, in some way, remember her. In our young manhood there was no Mother's Day set aside as how and while we always thought of Mother, there were few remembrances sent her as they now do. This is to tell young folks who have a Mother living to make the day a happy one for her if only personal congratulations and appreciation for what she has done for you.

The new code price list for the Graphic Arts, or commercial printers, is in the hands of printers of Southeast Missouri. This sets the price to be charged by big printing establishments and by little printers. The United States District Attorney is ready to investigate and prosecute any complaints brought to his attention with proof.

We expect to see "Nancy's Private Affair" on the stage at the High School Auditorium next Tuesday night. This is the Senior Class play and from rehearsal reports will be quite entertaining.

We point with pride to this issue of The Standard and view with alarm those who do not use its advertising columns to place their merchandise before the public. Our "multi-colored" press was called into action and the editor drafted to do the feeding. The management stands ready to duplicate colored advertising at a slight increase in rates at any time sufficient notice is given. All the advertising and press work has been done since the Tuesday edition was placed in the mail.

Parking On Two Streets Changed By Ordinance

Three proposed ordinances were passed unanimously, one was rejected, April bills were approved, and minor matters were considered at a regular monthly meeting of members of the City Council held in the City Hall at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening.

By the action of the group in passing one ordinance downtown parking on two streets will be changed to a system which was tried once before without success.

The act provides that all automobiles stopping on the north side of Front street between Kingshighway and Scott Street and on the east side of North New Madrid street between Front and Center streets must be parked at an angle of forty-five degrees with the right side of each car nearest the curb. On the south side of Front street and the west side of North New Madrid street within the area designated, automobiles must be parked parallel with the curb.

Persons violating this ordinance will be considered guilty of a misdemeanor and may be fined not more than $100. All trucks and buses which have load carrying capacities of more than three-fourths of a ton are forbidden to stop on these two streets, and it is understood that there will be no double parking.

A second ordinance passed by the Council prohibits circuses, carnivals, dog and pony shows, skating rinks and shows and exhibitions of any kind operating under a canvas from locating their shows within 300 feet of a church or school building Persons found guilty of violating this act will be fined not less than $5 nor more than $100

The third ordinance levied a sales tax of 3 cents a gallon on gasoline and twenty cents a gallon on lubricating oils sold on or delievered to the municipal airport. Companies making such sales must remit this tax to the City Clerk, together with a monthly or quarterly report. A fine of not more than $100 will be paid by any concern violating this ordinance.

An ordinance providing for an increase in the salary of Walter Kendall, Chief of Polie, was automatically rejected when members, by a secret ballot, voted five to two against raising Kendall's pay

Among the April bills approved by the Council members was a telephone bill of $17.35 for long distance calls made in January, March, July and December, 1933, and in January, February and March of this year, and for rent for the police department telephone for January, 1933. After these bills were accepetd, Dr. G. W. Presnell requested the City Clerk, A. C. Barrett, to have the Southeastern Missouri Telephone Company submit their statements every month hereafter.

John Thompson, City community garden supervisor, was retained in that position for another month at a wekly salary of $14.40. Speaking in behalf of Thompson were John A. Young and C. L. Blanton, Jr., who outlined the work which has been done on the city's ten-acre tract, telling that all the ground has been harrowed, an acre and a half planted in beans, and 8000 cabbage plants set out. They said that soon seed potatoes and tomato plants will arrive, and that in the fall produce from Scott county's four community gardens will be canned by women on relief with the aid of operators of a traveling canning kitchen. Mr. Young, in urging the retention of Thompson, stated that he spent $160 weekly among the merchants for relief, and that the city received approximately $134 worth of labor free.

Frank Lair, representing the Chamber of Commerce, requested the Council to erect street signs at Sikeston's 225 intersections. Two would be needed at each one, he said, but it is thought that wherever possible telephone and light poles could be used to reduce the expense of buying posts for the signs. Mr. Lair's request was referred to members of the street committee, who will obtain estimates for the work.

The Council moved to ask the highway department officials to have the branch of Highway 61 which runs through the city marked Optional 61.

Members of the group will meet at 7:30 Tuesday evening to swear in as an alderman the man who is that day elected in ward three to fill the place left vacant by Dr. Presnell, when he was chosen mayor.

Frank Dye Named Head of Rural Mail Carriers

Frank Dye of Sikeston was re-elected president of the Scott Count Rural Mail Carriers' Association at an annual meeting of carriers and an auxiliary held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. O'Neal in Illmo.

Other officers chosen were: Vice-president, Mrs. Luta Evans, Morley; secretary-treasurer, C. O. O'Neal. Mr. O'Neal was also named as delegate to the State convention to be held at Washington, Mo., on July 13 and 14. B. F. Adams, Benton, was elected alternate.

Officers of the Auxiliary are the following women: President, Mrs. C. O. O'Neal; vice-president, Mrs. Frank Dye; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. B. F. Adams.

The 1935 county convention will be held at Oran.

Rural mail carriers who attended this meeting with their families were Ben F. Adams, Benton; David Lumsden, Frank Dye, Sikeston; Raymond Marshall, Blodgett; C. O. O'Neal, Illmo; H. J. Englen, Oran; Claude Williams, Leo Blattel, Chaffee, and Ralph Vaughn, Morley.

PHYSICIANS ACCUSED OF VIOLATING NARCOTIC LAW

Three Sikeston physicians were charged in Poplar Bluff Tuesday with violating the narcotic laws, following an investigation made here by two government agents from the bureau of narcotics of the United States Department of the Treasury.

The men, Dr. A. A. Mayfield, Dr. Howard Dunaway and Dr. J. F. Waters, had a formal hearing before H. H. Freer, United States Commissioner, and were bound over to the October term of the Federal Court in Cape Girardeau, when a federal grand jury will review their case. Bond was set at $500 for each one.

It is said that about a week ago two men went to Dr. Mayfield's office at 214 West Malone Avenue and posed as incurable dope addicts, moaning, groaning and holding their stomachs in the presence of witnesses.

According to Dr. Mayfield, the two stated they were strangers passing through Sikeston and wanted only one prescription of morphine to enable them to leave town. An examination, he said, revealed that one had chronic adhesions from an old operation in his lower abdomen, the other, ulcers of the stomach. They both showed places on their arms which indicated they had been given shots before. Dr. Mayfield now believes these marks were made by a sharp pencil point.

He gave them a prescription, but in a few days they returned. When Dr. Mayfield questioned them, they said they had obtained temporary jobs and needed additional morphine. This they were given.

On Monday they visited Dr. Mayfield for a third time, but after he had written a prescription for them, they showed their badges and told him he was under arrest.

The manner employed by the agents in getting morphine from Dr. Mayfield is said to be similar to that used in the cases of Drs. Waters and Dunaway.

It is understood that narcotic agents, traveling to towns, inspect drug store prescription lists and then question doctors who have been issuing numerous prescriptions. The narcotic law provides that physicians may prescribe as much as is necessary. Because several of Dr. Mayfield's patients are acute sufferers, it is said, he has been allowing more morphine than ordinarily.

The two agents are Leroy T. Sutherland and Paul Q. Halterman. R. E. Bailey has been retained as attorney for the three accused men.

Charles F. Mullet, an assistant professor of history at the University of Missouri, spoke Thursday morning to sophomores, juniors and seniors, at the high school auditorium.

In outlining to students the advantages of attending the university, Mr. Mullett was co-operating with members of the Columbia Chamber of Commerce, who are attempting to interest more young men and women in the university so that the institution's enrollment will be increased.

Orville Zimmerman, of Kennett Announces Candidacy For Congress

In this issue of The Standard Hon. Orville Zimmerman of Kennett, Dunklin County, Mo., makes his formal announcement for the Democratic nomination for Congress from this district.

Mr. Zimmerman was born and reared to manhood on a farm in Bollinger County, in this district, where he received his early education and training in the public school at Glen Allen and at old Mayfield-Smith Academy, now Will Mayfield College. Later he attended the State Teachers' College at Cape Girardeau, from which institution he graduated in 1904. After serving as principal of the high school at Dexter for four years, he studied law at the University of Missouri, graduating in the year 1911. In that year he located at Kennett, where he has made his home and practiced his profession since that time.

Speaking of his candidacy, the Dunklin Democrat, his home paper, had the following to say of him:

"While he has never held an elective, or other public office with any salary attached, Mr. Zimmerman has taken an active part in the Democratic politics of this district all of his life, and especially during the twenty-odd years that he has been practicing law in Dunklin County.

"He has served for several terms as a school director in this district, and is at present a member of the Board of Regents of the Southeast Missouri State Teachers' College; was for a number of years a State director in Lions International and drafted the constitution under which the State organization is now operating.

"An ex-service man, Mr. Zimmerman has taken an active part in the affairs of The American Legion, and is one of the trustees of Samuel T. Adams Post of the American Legion. During the war, prior to his closing his office and leavng for training camp, he was chairman of the legal advisory committee of this county.

"He is a former president of the Kennett Lions Club of which he is a charter member; a Mason and a Shriner; and for years has been one of the most active in the affairs of the Methodist church.

"Thoroughly acquainted with the problems of this district, mature in his judment, intellectually ture in his judgment, intellectually quickly gaining the confidence of his followers, Orville Zimmerman should be the choice of an overwhelming majority of the voters of the Tenth District when they select the Democratic nominee for Congress next August".

Mr. Zimmerman will make an active campaign in this county and hopes to see personally as many voters as possible. However, owing to the size of the district, he will not be able to see everyone, and he takes this means of personally soliciting the support and influence of each and every Democratic voter.

Presnell Urges Care of Expectant Mothers

Dr. G. W. Presnell stressed the need of proper care for mothers, both before and after the birth of their children in a talk which he gave before members of the Lions Club when they met with the Catholic ladies at the old Catholic school building Wednesday for a regular weekly luncheon session.

"During 1933", Dr. Presnell said, "in the United States, where Mother's Day originated, over 10,000 women died needlessly to bring a human being into the world. What more noble and worthy purpose could Mother's Day have than to be dedicated to safe-guarding the mother in the achievement of her biggest destiny!"

During a short business meeting men were chosen as delegates and alternates to the State Lions Club Convention which will be held at Steeleville on May 27, 28, 39 and 30. Delegates are Ted Kirby, E. F. Schorle, Joe Sarsar, Ralph Anderson and C. L. Blanton, Jr.; alternates are Leon D. Gmeiner, M. M. Beck, John Powell, Pete Medley and Dr. W. A. Anthony.

The text of Dr. Presnell's speech is printed below:

"Mother's Day means something very definite to everyone. If we have lost a mother there is nothing but the memory to venerate, and to him whose mother is still with him, it serves as an occasion for showing her how great a place she has in his life.

"Sentiment should have a place in the life of every one of us, and there is no one who appreciates sentiment more than our mothers, but Mother's Day is going off the strictly sentimental standard. It was formerly used as a day of almsgiving, but today we realize it is of far more importance to safeguard her life and health. During 1933, in the United States, where Mother's Day originated, over 10,000 women died needlessly to bring a human being into the world. Over one-half of these women could have been saved by adequate maternity care. What more noble and worthy purpose could Mother's Day have than to be dedicated to safeguarding the mother in the achievement of her biggest destiny!

"It is most important for the mother that she have early and good advice in order to prevent many of the complications which end disastrously to both mother and babe. The responsibility rests with the father to see that nothing has been left undone that will assure her safety. It is therefore important to get men's clubs thruout the country interested in the part they can play toward securing better maternity care for all expectant mothers. Only by appraisal of maternity facilities in every community and a study of their quality, can the great step forward be taken. We need to arouse the public to the fact that the death rate is too high. I believe it is said that a greater number of mothers die in America than in any other country from childbirth. This is not due to incompetent service during labor, but to prenatal care. We have not aroused the interest and importance of safeguarding the complications. We need a nation-wide campaign to make 'motherhood safe for mothers', and when a number appalling and unnecessarily large—over 10,000 out of 16,000, who annually die in child birth could be saved if only adequate care could be had, it is time to be aroused and very concerned. In addition to these giving their life, we have many, many women left invalids for lack of necessary care.

"Surely we should make some effort to save mothers. We should have groups in every community to work with their own physician, health offices, and nurses to alter those factors which are detrimental to safe motherhood. Unfortunately every community in the United States does not have facilities for giving adequate care to every expectant mother for the price she can afford ot pay. The expectant father should find out what the facilities are in his own community, so as to make the best use of whatever is available. He should make certain of:

"1. A doctor to care for her from the time she thinks she is pregnant until she is able to resume her regular activities. The doctor will make a physical examination, take her blood pressure, examine her urine, and measure her to determine how much room there is for the baby to be born. He will want to see her or have reports every three or four weeks throughout pregnancy. He will help her to decide whether to go to a hospital or stay home for the baby's birth. He will want to see her and the baby several times after the baby comes. Then he will examine her about three months later, to make sure everything is again normal.

"2. A good dentist to go over teeth and clean them, fill any cavities, and teach her how to care for her mouth.

"3. Instructions and help during pregnancy in the personal and home hygiene, that will help her to keep well, to care for her family. This instruction can be secured from visiting nurses. The nurse can give practical help about all details, and can help her to plan her days so there will be time for rest and pleasure and time outdoors in the sunshine.

"4. Nursing and household help when the baby comes and for several weeks afterwards. Husbands who understand the needs can learn to be a great help.

"5. A plan for fitting the baby in the home so the whole family life will not be upset, a place for his own things, a daily schedule for his care, a father ready to help with the care of the baby or with the housework; these are some of the helps toward keeping father, mother and baby well and happy.

"While the death rate of mothers is appalling, I believe there is quite an improvement. We do not have much superstition. As mothers become more enlightened they do not believe that they are responsible for the mother-marks or birth-marks, neither do they believe the only thing necessary is to keep the bowels open and trust God. Although I do not question the wisdom of that belief, a doctor's care and instructions are also necessary. Pregnancy is natural and should be normal. The birth of a baby should not injure or impair the health of any woman who has had good care from the beginning of her pregnancy. The important thing is to employ a good doctor early and follow his advice in every detail, every day.

"I repeat, the responsibility of the mother's safety rests with the father. This is a grave responsibility and there is no escaping it. All have part in deciding the details of the care the expectant mother is to receive. It is a responsibility with which the men of America are deeply charged, and to which they should actively respond. It's our duty—to ourselves, our wives, our children, and our mothers".

Two Are Charged With Killing Ripley Farmer

Members of the highway patrol office here who went Tuesday afternoon to Doniphan to investigate, with Ripley County officers, the slaying Monday night of D. M. Burke, a 45-year-old farmer living near Grandin, solved the case when they jailed Ed Barnett, 41 years old, a former convict who farms near Doniphan, and Orison McKinney, also a farmer. John E. McKinney, father of Orison, who was at first questioned about the killing, was released on a $5000 bond.

Burke was killed from ambush while he was watering his mules at sunset Monday evening. At the Doniphan hospital, where he was taken after his 8-year-old son had seen him fall and summoned help, it was found that a charge from a shotgun had entered his body on the right side of the abdomen.

The motive for the slaying centered around approximately two and a half acres of land, the ownership of which Burke and the elder McKinney had each claimed for some time. And although both men, prominent in their community, had quarreled over the land, the murder was planned by Orison McKinney, who hired Barnett to kill Burke for $25.

Capt. A. D. Sheppard, Sgts. R. R. Reed and Massie, and Troopers Graham and Wallace, who left here Tuesday afternoon, arrested Barnett at 4:30 o'clock Wednesday morning and the younger McKinney at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The shotgun used in the killing was found in the home of John McKinney.

In a complete confession, which Barnett made soon after his arrest, officers learned that Orison had convinced the former convict that Burke intended to kill him and that it would be wise for him to strike first. This he agreed to do.

On Monday, when the elder McKinney's bees swarmed and he went out to tend them, Orison, whose home is not far away, slipped into his father's house and removed the shotgun, taking it to a spot near a spring, already designated as a hiding place for the weapon.

Barnett found it, shot Burke from ambush, and then returned it to the spring. Then Orison surreptitiously slipped it into his father's house again.

Barnett and the younger McKinney are being held in the Ripley County jail at Doniphan, the former charged with murder, the latter, with being an accessory before the fact. Though McKinney has not confessed, officers feel that they have a strong case against him.

Burke was a well-known and well-liked farmer. He had lived in the Grandin district for several years. His body was sent to Ft. Leavenworth, Kas., a former home, for burial. He is survived by his wife and two adopted children.

Five Are Charged With Killing Show Employe

A woman, together with her son, two daughters, and a daughter-in-law, was placed in the Pemiscot County jail in Caruthersville Wednesday and charged with the murder of her husband, Russell Evans, 48 years old, whose body was found floating in the Mississippi River, Monday morning.

The following are accused: Mrs. Bonnie Evans, 50 years old, the wife of Evans; her son, Howard, 27 years old; her daughters, Teny, 18 years old and Mary 16 years old; and her daughter-in-law, Thelma, wife of Howard.

Evans' body was found at 11 o'clock in the morning by a fisherman, who notified officers. An examination made by Coroner J. W. Rhodes of Hayti at undertaking rooms in Caruthersville disclosed that Evans' skull had been crushed and discolored, presumably from a blow made with a heavy, blunt instrument, and that his body had not been placed in the water for almost twenty-four hours after he died. Because the body was not badly decomposed, it is thought Evans was killed sometime late Friday night or early Saturday morning.

Evans and his family were members of the "Zarlington" troupe which with a medicine show operated by "Chief Rolling Cloud", an Indian, had been playing in Caruthersville for two weeks. Mrs. Evans, taken to Caruthersville from Kennett, where the show had gone to exhibit, said her husband disappeared Friday and she had left without knowing what had happened to him.

The five accused are said to have killed Evans to be rid of him, following a quarrel during which the son, Howard, who owns most of the troupe's equipment, asked him to leave because he was spending all of the family's earnings on liquor.

Evans was seen last at a drinking place Friday night. It is said that then he bought liquor with fifty cents which he had.

After the quarrel, which occurred in Bragg City week before last, he had followed the troupe and for several days had been living in a tent directly north of Caruthersville with Otto Cravens and Barto Hubbard.

According to Mrs. Evans, he returned several times to the show grounds for money, which she sometimes gave him.

Evans was buried in the county burial ground near Hayti, Monday night. At one time he lived in New Orleans, but his home was originally at Marion, Ill.

The Angel of Death Visited—

A message was received by relatives here Thursday informing them of the death of Mrs. A. E. Lydy of East St. Lousi, Ill., formerly of this city, which occurred Wednesday evening, the cause said to have been high blood pressure and other complications. The body will be brought here for burial, to arrive today on the noon train and will be taken to Welsh Funeral Parlor. Funeral services will be conducted Sunday.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Lydy is survived by two daughters, Lola and Stella, and one son, Loren; four brothers, Bill and Jim Ellis of this city, Pat Ellis of Charleston and a brother in the army.

Funeral services for Mrs. Julia Wallace, 66 years old, who died Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Elmer Kindred, in Crowder, were conducted at the residence at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning by the Rev. A. C. Sullivan, pastor of the Morehouse Baptist church. Burial was in Memorial Park cemetery.

Mrs. Wallace, who had been ill for approximately a year, was born in Forence, Ala., on June 2, 1867. In March, 1898, she married John Wallace. She had been a member of the Missionary Baptist church at Vanduser for the last twenty-six years.

Besides Mrs. Kindred, Mrs. Wallace is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Verbal Rodgers, Sikeston, and Mrs. Edna Hamlin, Vanduser; two sons, Alva Wallace, Vanduser and Arthur Wallace, Morehouse; three stepsons, Turner and David Wallace, Vanduser, and Jim Wallace, Morehouse; and thirteen grandchildren. Three children have died. Mr. Wallace has been dead for eighteen years. Welsh service.

Funeral services for Mrs. J. D. Cora, 67 years old, who died at her home early Tuesday, were held at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Church of the Nazarene here. They were conducted by the Rev. C. F. Transue, pastor of the church. Burial was in Memorial Park Cemetery.

Suffering from a tumor, Mrs. Cora had been ill for three years, but was not seriously afflicted until last Thursday.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Lyman Akes and Mrs. Fred Feter, both of St. Louis, and Mrs Wm. Swinney and Mrs. Ray Lee, both of Sikeston; three sons, John Cora of St. Loui, Claiborne Cora of Sikeston, and Arthur Cora of Cape Girardeau; a brother, Bailey Reese; ten grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren. Welsh service.

SOUTHERN TEACHERS DEFEAT WASHINGTON

The Southern Illinois Teachers' College track and field team again showed its power and supremacy by defeating Washington University, St. Louis, by a score of 82 to 49.

Leland Lingle, coach of the team and himself a graduate of the college, which is located at Carbondale, began his teaching at the Sikeston high school in 1921. Four years later, he returned to Southern Illinois Teachers' College to accept a position which he still holds.

Southern gathered nine first places to six for the Washington Bears. The individual stand out of the meet was Crisp of Southern, who is Lingle's stellar hurdler. Running the high hurdles for second time in collegiate competition, he clipped them in 15.7 seconds. Crisp was high point man of the meet with thirteen points. He won first in the broad jump with a leap of more than 22 feet and second in the record breaking low hurdle race.

Southern also slammed the mile run with Newton, Lemons and Grisco finishing in that order.

Lavern Tripp stepped the quarter in 52 seconds flat, with Heiderschied of Southern pressing him all the way.

Clark, Washington's great weight man, maintained his reputation as a great shot putter and discus thrower by defeating Bauder and Duckworth in the shot, the first time a Southern man failed to win first place this year. However, Clark was forced to put the shot 45 feet, ½ inches.

Perhaps the greatest performance of the afternoon and most closely contested was the discus throw. Bauder again showed his great ability by hurling the platter 137 feet, 2½ inches for first place with Clark second with 136 feet, 5 inches; while Knash, the new sensation of the Southern squad, throwing for the first season in competition, placed third with a throw of 135 feet, 8½ inches.

Brown again easily won first in the javelin.

In the low hurdles, Devor of Southern set another new record, topping the barriers in 25.8 seconds and nosing out Crisp by inches.

Cole easily defeated Nickols of Washington in the high jump with a leap of 6 feet.

Mrs. Billy Hill of Troy, Tenn., arrived Sunday for a visit with her aunt, Mrs. Robert Joyner.

AIRPORT WORK BEING FINISHED THIS WEEK

All work on the Sikeston municipal airport will be finished this week.

Men on the work relief roll have been leveling about ten acres in the northwest corner of the field to complete the 160 acres included in the airport. The rest of the ground has already been converted into a 1 per cent grade. Lespedeza and oats, sown last month, are growing, making the field green and holding the soil in place.

A wind indicator, recently purchased, will be fastened to the airport hangar, and on the roof of the hangar will be painted in white a large M, signifying municipal, and under it, the name Sikeston.

On the roof of the Lair Furniture Company will be painted Sikeston in letters approximately fifteen feet high. Also on this building will be a large white arrow pointing north and marked N, and another pointing east to the airport. In addition to this, the distance in miles, or a figure 1, will be put by the arrow, and with it a circle enclosing a letter and a figure indicating the size and equipment rating of the muncipal field.

The letter and figure to be placed within this circle will be determined by a federal airport inspector who will come here soon to see the field and give it a rating. A second letter, ordinarily placed in this circle, indicates the rating of night lighting facilities. When the Sikeston airport is equipped with lights, this letter will be added.

These letters and figures are put in prominent positions in cities having airports so that flyers may know where to find the fields and whether they may land their planes with safety.

WHICH GASOLINE ADVERTISING IS MOST SINCERE?

Thousands answer:

Phillips 66

● What do you and other experienced drivers think of the confusing claims and counter-claims presented in the gasoline ads?

To discover the answer, university psychologists recently made independent surveys in nine Mid-west cities. The results proved that the average motorist wants facts—proved that he appreciates authentic information which helps him select gasoline intelligently.

Naturally, we are gratified that so many car owners voted Phillips advertising as "most sincere." We make no trick claims, we employ no high-pressure salesmanship in print, because we have the following basic facts around which to build every Phillips 66 advertisement:

1. In each ad, we print in plain figures the definite gravity (or high test) range of Phillips 66 for the month, conclusive evidence which tells you how high the test is. Decide for yourself why others do not publish their gravity figures.
2. Phillips is the world's largest producer of natural high test gasoline.
3. Matching or tailoring gasoline to the weather was pioneered and first offered by Phillips. We call this process CONTROLLED VOLATILITY.
4. We use lead tetraethyl to insure genuinely high anti-knock value.
5. We charge nothing extra for high test Phillips 66.

On the basis of these facts, it is obvious that it doesn't take a mechanic to feel the difference. Once you Phillup with Phillips at the Orange and Black 66 shield, the way your motor runs is our best advertisement.

New Madrid County School Superintendent's News

By Milus R. Davis

We have just received a letter from Jefferson City stating that the teachers of LaForge schools will be paid Federal Aid for the last 17 days; Point Pleasant, 55 days; Linda, 18 days; Boekerton, 46 days; Barnes Ridge, 57 days; Walnut Grove, 57 days; York, 22 days; Sugar Tree, 40 days; Wilburn, 7 days; Hough, 82 days; Union Grove, 15 days.

We expect the checks for these teachers to come in within a short time and shall notify teachers as soon as they arrive. Two of the above districts have not been allowed enough aid through some error and we are asking the Federal Relief Administration to correct these errors.

On Thursday night, April 19, we attended the last day exercises of O'Bannon school. Mrs. Elvena atimer Randolph finished her third year as teacher there and will work in the Marston schools next year.

Friday, April 20, we took part in the closing programs of both Wilburn and Pt. Pleasant schools. Miss Dema Parker is teacher at Wilburn and has been re-elected for the third term. Miss Lucille Knight finished her second year at Pt. Pleasant but will not teach next year. However, her work was satisfactory and she could have retained her position there.

Thursday night, April 26, we visited the graduation exercises of the Dawson school where Miss Geneva Stepp has finished her second year's work as teacher.

Saturday night, April 28, we presented the eighth grade diplomas at the Conran graduation and D. M. Smith, member of the board, presented the high school diplomas. Orville Zimmerman of Kennett gave a splendid class address. The house was overflowing. Supt. J. A. McCullough and the entire faculty have been employed for the coming year.

The subject which we are stressing this spring is "Educational Standards" and our purpose is to try to change the psychology of the public in their demands for credit inflation which is supplanting real educational values.

In too many cases we find that pupils in their feverish desire to get to high school resort to every possible excuse and trick to slide thru the grades without becoming proficient.

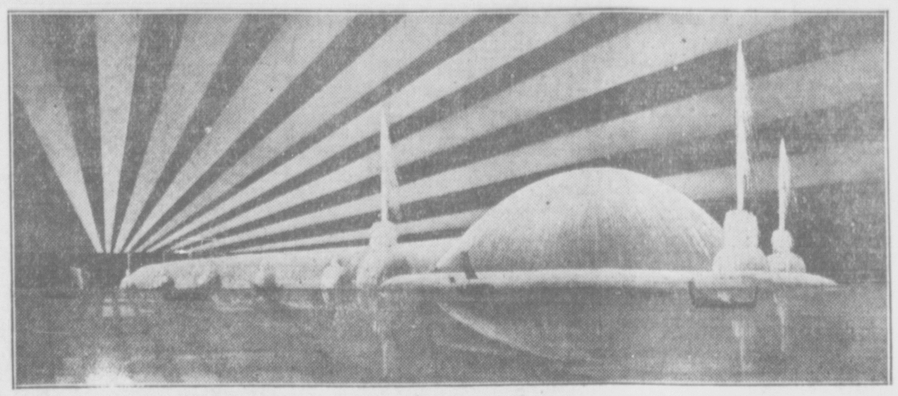

They seem to think that the high school teacher can and will miraculously educate them and transform them into a dynamo of educational efficiency even when their actual standard of achievement is not any beter than a normal sixth grade pupil. In this they will be profoundly disappointed.

Parents sometime make it embarrassing on teachers when they do not promote pupils who have failed to meet the proper standards. Parents who do this are merely placing their children under a strain and handicap for those who enter high school before they have grounded themselves in the fundamentals are sure to find themselves struggling to keep their heads above the water.

The future lives of our children would be infinitely more efficient and happy if they would spend their energy in striving for mastery and breadth in the fundamentals of the elementary grades rather than utilizing their resourcefulness in trying to dodge work, shift rseponsibility, and GET BY without producing the goods.

We hasten to offer our congratulations to Miss Geneva Calvin and Lenzie Beck, who were lately united in marriage. Mrs. Beck has taught in the Fairview school for the past two years and will retain her position there for the coming year.

World's Largest Fountain New Fair Feature

The largest fountain ever built will be the outstanding single feature of the new World's Fair which opens in Chicago May 26. Its flow of water will be enough to supply a city of 1,000,000, and its spectacular lighting, in five colors, will use an electrical load sufficient for a city of 150,000. Fifteen foreign villages, music, fireworks and free entertainment will be among the major attractions of the Fair. There are 84 miles of free exhibits. Cost to visitors will be low. Reduced rail and hotel rates are in effect. Chicago is easily accessible by automobile through fourteen major highways. A program of especial interest with music, parades, fireworks and special features has been arranged for opening day.

FEW COUNTRY NEGROES EVER PASS FIRST GRADE

Washington, May 7.—Nearly one-third of the negro pupils in country schools never go beyond the first grade—this was one of the "sobering facts" which the Interior Department Office of Education put up to the negro and white educational and civic leaders assembled here for the National Conference on the Education of Negroes.

Some of the other problems outlined were:

About 1,00,000 negro boys and girls of school age are not in school.

Illiteracy in 17 Southern States and the District of Columbia is 16.3 per cent among negroes, 1.5 per cent among whites.

Eighty per cent of the negro population, which totals nearly 12,000,000, is in 15 Southern States.

The average term in schools for negroes is 134 days; the national average school term is 171 days.

Eleven Southern States in 1930 spent an average of $12.57 annually for the education of each enrolled negro pupil, as against $44.31 for each white pupil, and a national average of $99 per pupil.

Nearly 40 per cent of the rural negro schools use benches with no desks.

Two hundred and thirty counties in 15 States have no high school facilities for negroes.

More than 30,000 negro public school teachers are needed to bring standards of negro education up to the national average.

The conference was called by Secretary of the Interior Ickes. Dr. George F. Zook, Federal Commissioner of Education, is chairman of the conference.

The first non-Catholic church organized in the territory of the Mississippi River was a Baptist church. In 1805 the Towappity Baptist church came into existence. This was in the vicinity of Cape Girardeau. In the year following, the Bethel Baptist church was organized in the same neighborhood and had a rather flourishing and prosperous period for the years immediatley following. In 1834 the Baptist people of the State formed their general body, known as the Missouri Baptist General Association. The Centennial celebration of this organization will be held in St. Louis next October. In 1844 a movement was launched for the founding of a Baptist college by Missouri Baptists. This movement was delayed for a little while, but in 1849 William Jewell college was started as a result of these effort.—William Jewell Bulletin.

$10,000,000 STATE BOND ISSUE

for

MISSOURI'S ELEEMOSYNARY AND PENAL INSTITUTIONS

Some of the Reasons

1—OVERCROWDED, FIRETRAPS—MISSOURI ELEEMOSYNARY AND PENAL INSTITUTIONS ARE DISGRACEFULLY OVERCROWDED, MOST OF THEM ARE FIRETRAPS. The Gary Survey Commission report of 1929 revealed that. Conditions are now worse than ever.

2—REPAIR BILLS MOUNT ANNUALLY. Repair bills alone, in order to keep the buildings habitable, are almost enough to pay the interest and principal on a $10,000,000 bond issue. These repair bills the taxpayer must pay, of course.

3—NO INCREASE IN TAXES—It is doubtful, according to figures compiled by the STATE TAX COMMISSION, whether the proposed bond issue will involve any increase of taxes whatever. At the outside the increase would not exceed 13 cents per $1,000 assessed valuation, or 1 cent an acre on average farm land EVERY THREE YEARS

4—FEDERAL P W A GRANT—By voting the bonds now we will obtain a Federal P W A grant of $3,400,000 absolutely free.

5—HOW MONEY WILL BE SPENT—Every dollar of the $10,000,000 state bond money, as well as the Federal grant, will be expended under strict U. S. government inspection and control. In addition, the elected state officials, who will form the State Building Commission, as provided by law, have promised to appoint a BIPARTISAN SUPERVISORY COMMITTEE composed of high-class citizens who will serve in an advisory capacity in all matters affecting the building program.

6—NO POLITICS. The movement for relief of our outgrown and overcrowded institutions, of which every Missourian is ashamed, was inaugurated under a Republican administration by former Gov. Henry S. Caulfield. It is being carried out by a Democratic administration under Gov. Guy B. Park. Prominent men and women, Democrats and Republicans, alike, are working side by side for the State bond issue.

7—WILL EMPLOY THOUSANDS. The adoption of this proposal will give employment to thousands of men and supplement the farm and business recovery now under way. The same $13,400,000 will be respent 25 times a year.

8—CHARITY AND HUMANITY. It will provide adequate care for nearly 15,000 mental defectives, tubercular patients and prisoners, charges of the state, who are now herded like animals under conditions which preclude proper treatment or reform. From this point of view, as Gov. Park recently said: "This bond issue is the greatest humanitarian movement ever undertaken in Missouri. . . . The people incarcerated in these institutions are flesh of our flesh, blood of our blood, and we are our brothers' keepers."

FIRE WOULD CAUSE HOLOCAUST—"On some stormy night, a fire—long overdue—will start in some of these buildings and a holocaust, which will bring shame to every Missourian—will surely occur."—Governor Park.

SITUATION CRITICAL—"Over-crowding is such that the situation is, and for a long time has been, very critical."—Former Gov. Caulfield.

DANGER OF INSURRECTION—"The great danger from the present over-crowded condition of our prisoners is that insurrections may occur at any time and the lives of our officers be jeopardized."—Governor Park.

Up to 6900 more firing charges in every gallon of improved Super-Shell

More Mileage and More Power now possible for motorists through new "Super-charging" process developed by SHELL

KANSAS CITY..."With Super Shell my Ford doesn't need a start to level out Kansas City hills." —Jo Ann Bucher

THINK what it means to you to have up to 6900 extra firing charges packed into every gallon of gasoline you buy!

Firing charges make your car move! Added firing charges are like a bonus—a free gift of power.

Shell laboratories developed a new process which "super-charges" gasoline by actually changing the chemical structure.

See what this super-charged gasoline does in your car. You can feel the difference—you can measure the difference—in extra miles per gallon.

INDIANAPOLIS..."I'm averaging an extra mile per gallon with your new improved Super Shell." —H. F. Owens

THOUSANDS SAVING ON GASOLINE COSTS—Herman Rodenberg, Cincinnati, says: "Those extra firing charges mean free mileage for me."

MOTHER'S DAY SERVICES PLANNED BY CHURCHES

Most of Sikeston's churches will devote at least one Sunday service to programs pertaining to Mother's Day. Ministers will honor mothers in their sermons and special music will be given by church members.

Perhaps the most elaborate program has been planned by Mrs. Leslie Garrison for the First Baptist Church. At the morning services, the church choir will sing "Mother's Prayers" and a sextet, composed of Grace and Ella Lee Evans, Virginia Martin, Thelma Lee, Vernetta Smith and Mrs. Gladys Higgins, will sing "Songs That Mother Loved".

Following this, Jewell Allen will give a short talk on the origin of Mother's Day. Then two musical readings will be given: "Rock Me to Sleep, Mother", by Mrs. Garrison and "The Answer" by Neva Mae Taylor.

At the conclusion of this part of the program, a playlet, "Bear Ye One Another's Burdens" will be presented as part of a Statewide contribution on Mother's Day of each year to the Missouri Baptist Hospital in St. Louis. Two red cross nurses will be at the church doors to receive offerings to be used in charity work done by members of the hospital staff.

The following persons will be in the play: Nurse, Freda Lankford; others, Lela Stacy and Marguerite Bryant; crippled child, Mary Louise Jones; another child, Mary Ann Lankford.

At the Christian church the Rev. R. M. Talbert will preach a sermon appropriate to Mother's Day at the morning services, which will begin at 10:45 o'clock. In addition to a short play, "Mothers of Yesterday", the program will include a solo, "Mother o' Mine", sung by Mrs. Moore Greer and a duet, "Mother", by Roger Bailey and Mrs. Fred Kirby.

The mothers will have charge of the Sunday school program at the Church of the Nazarene, and awards will be made to the oldest mother and to the mother with the most children.

The Rev. E. H. Orear will preach on "Mother's Day" and a program of special music will be given at the morning services of the Methodist church. In the evening, the Rev. Mr. Orear will talk on "High Points of the General Conference of Southern Methodist Episcopal Churches", discussing why Bishop Jas. Cannon wasn't retired.

At the Presbyterian church the Rev. D. D. Ellis will speak on "The Christian Home" at the morning services. There will be special music and each mother present will be given a white rose.

Members of the Miner Baptist church will gather at the church at 12 o'clock noon for a basket dinner. At 2 o'clock, they will have a special Mother's Day program.

MAKES YOU LOSE UNHEALTHY FAT

A young woman of Norwich, Conn., writes: "I lost 16 lbs. with my first bottle of Kruschen. Being on night duty it was hard to sleep days but now since I am taking Kruschen I sleep plenty, eat as usual and lose fat, too."

To take off fat—take one-half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—one bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but little get it at White's or Galloway's or any drug store in America. If their first bottle fails to convince you this is the SAFE and HARMLESS way to lose fat—your money gladly returned.

Don't accept anything but Kruschen because you must reduce safely. -5

Four different cities have occupied the site of the city of Jericho, 15 miles from Jerusalem according to excavations made at this point.

FORMER RESIDENT HERE ACTIVE IN CHARITY WORK

Mrs. Clara Larson of St. Louis, who with her daughter, Mrs. Milton Haas, formerly a resident of Sikeston, has been very active in charity work, recently arranged for patients of the St. Louis City Sanitarium, the City Infirmary, and the St. Louis Training School for feeble minded children to attend, without charge, a circus given by members of the St. Louis Police Relief Association.

Mrs. Larson also arranged, with aid of the board of education, for bus transportation to the circus for the 1000 patients who attended.

"Literally, a thousand thanks are due to the officers and members of the St. Louis Police Relief Association—that is, a 'thank you' apiece from the thousand patients who were their guests at the wonderful Police Circus recently", Mrs. Larson wrote in a letter published in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. "You can imagine what a thrill the event gave to these people, committed to the monotony of institutional life".

Sikeston Easily Beats Bluff

Poplar Bluff took a good lacing at the hands of the local golfers Sunday on the local grounds—39 to 10. The local golf enthusiasts were expecting a tight match, as Sikeston's junior golfers were objected to by the Bluff players and were therefore left out of the local macth. PROSPECTS ON THE UP-TURN

Prospects for agricultural prosperity show many evidences of improvement says O. R. Johnson, chairman of the agricultural economics department of the Missouri College of Agriculture. The important item of improvement is the increase in urban employment which does two things; it gives these re-employed workers wages with which to buy, and it adds their product to industrial output which will tend to give farm products an improved exchange relationship.

The Agricultural Adjustment Administration is making every effort to enable farmers to control their production. Their efforts in wheat, cotton, corn, hogs and dairy production will no doubt have, as they have already had in some of these products, a definite effect in limiting agricultural production or curbing the expansion of that production. This should be a longtime strengthening factor in farm product prices. These prices have clearly improved within the last year. It is estimated that agricultural income increased between 35 and 50 per cent this last season over the preceding year. With production control reasonably successful there is every reason to believe that this income will continue to rise, although the improvement from now on should be less rapid than that occurring since the turn from the low point.

There is little question but that while agricultural income is improving, the cost of things the farmer must buy has also been increasing as a result of factory wage increases which have been more rapid than increases in factory production. This makes the farm cost of living higher, it is true, but two or three of the most important cost items for the farmer have not joined in this increase. These cost items are taxes and interest on the mortgage. For the most part these are the biggest single items in the farm expense account, and these items have in general decreased rather than increased. If we figure the purchasing power of the farmer's income in terms not only of what he buys but also of taxes and interest which he must pay, we will probably find that his purchasing power is increasing with considerable rapidity.

We must not overlook the important effect which agricultural refinancing has had on the farmer's expense account. Loans have only been refinanced for a principal sum not larger than the original loan, and in many cases smaller, while the rate of interest has generally been reduced. At the same time there has been a distinct reduction in the tax bill, if not thru actual reduction in rate of taxes, then through a real reduction in assessed valuations. This is a distinct gain in purchasing power for the farmer.

With this improvement the farmer is again faced with a decision whether he will take this improvement and translate it into a more reasonable standard of living or whether he will hold his living standard down to the old level and translate this improvement entirely into increased land values. The latter course is the one we have always taken and probably the wrong one, since it has been responsible for making it more difficult for us to adjust to new price conditions in times of economic depression.

There was a fellow at Calf Ribs who last month decided to reform and join the church. It was a serious step, as he knew that right away he would have to quit selling second-hand-cars.—Commercial Appeal.

Chalk Up Another Score for Standard's Engineers

More,

LIVE POWER

per gallon

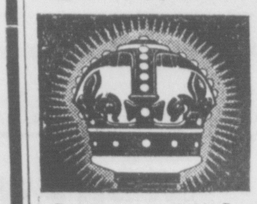

More Live Power per dollar, too, for there's no extra charge for Standard Red Crown Superfuel

More Live Power per gallon means that your car will get off to a faster start, take tough hills more easily and hold high speed hour after hour without hard labor for your engine.

How more Live Power is made available and usable in Standard Red Crown Superfuel is a more involved story. It is accomplished in the refining. Heavier, slower parts of an alréady excellent gasoline are converted into faster, keener fractions. . . But you are most interested in the result. And the result, as evidenced in your car, will be better performance—markedly better.

May we suggest that you drive in where you see the familiar Red Crown? Make your usual outlay for a supply of gasoline—for Superfuel sells at the price of "regular". We believe this small investment will lead to a big return in your motoring enjoyment this summer.

MAY 26 "POPPY DAY"

Sikeston will be called upon to honor the World War dead and give aid to the war's living victims by wearing memorial poppies on May 26. This day, the Saturday before Memorial Day, will be "Poppy Day" throughout the United States and will be generally observed by the wearing of the little red flower of Flanders' Fields.

Observance of "Poppy Day" here will be directed by the American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. T. C. Dye, president of the local Auxiliary Unit has announced. The women of the Auxiliary will distribute poppies on the streets and receive contributions for the Auxiliary's welfare and relief work among the diabled veterans and their families.

A large supply of the poppies has been ordered from the poppy work shop in St. Louis, located in the Missouri Pacific Building, where disabled veterans have been given employment during the winter and spring making the little paper flowers. Making the paper flokers offers a means of employment to veterans unable to do other work and not only brings them money for the support of themselves and families, but aids in their rehabilitation by giving them beneficial and interesting work. The poppies are made in government hospitals and in special poppy work rooms maintained by the Auxiliary. This year 58 different poppy making centers have been operated in forty States. The employment is restricted to men unable to do other types of work and preference is given those with families to support. The work is directed in such a manner that it will aid in the physical and mental rehabilitation of the veterans, as well as giving them financial benefits.

The little act of wearing a poppy touches the individual more closely than large public ceremonies in which he is only a spectator and awakes a realization of the individual responsibility to the nation, so greatly needed at this time.

"Poppy Day" also gives everyone an opportunity to share in the vast work which the American Legion and Auxiliary are doing for the disabled men, their families and the families of the dead.

From City To One "Hoss" Town

I've traveled up and I've traveled down, but I've never yet seen anything, except a one "hoss" town, park its car on end. The biggest fool thing under the shining sun, that I've ever seen done, is for a city to pretend to be a city, and block it's narrow streets, until cars in the center meet, just to be a country "hick". Oh, it gives me a pain; with nothing in the world to gain, we go and spend a lot for paint; the daddy of this folly ought to be hit with a brick. Our streets already narrow from end to end, we, for paint, a lot of money to spend, to make them narrower still. If you would go in or out, you've got to go 'round about, giving the driver going or coming a thrill. For I'll be "daddled", as sure as you are born, it don't matter how much you blow your horn, the fellow going in or out is "gwine" to go. If you have good brakes you must stop your car, for land sakes it won't do you any good to blow. Time lost going in and going out and going 'round about; traffic held up on every hand. If you don't be careful Si and take your time getting by, on some fellows rear end you will land. I've traveled up and I've traveled down, but I've never yet seen anything, except a one "hoss" town, parks its cars on end.—UMAGUESS.

It was distressing news and regretable news that comes to us over the Associated Press wires that Jas. A. Reed has announced as a candidate for United States Senator on the Democratic ticket. It was he more than any living man that harassed Woodrow Wilson to his grave. He has already knifed President Roosevelt and his administration and it will be his delight, if elected, to assassinate the things the President is trying to do to put the country back to normalcy, whatever that is. To us, he is unbearable and unbelievable and we can't see him in the primary or general election if he should be the nominee.

ADVANCE REJECTS ISSUE FOR WATER PLANT

At a special electoin held Tuesday, residents of Advance rejected by 13 votes a proposition to issue $22,000 in bonds to be used in constructing a city water system.

A two-thirds majority was necessary for passage of the issue. The unofficial count credited 161 with favoring it and 87 with opposing. At another time the same bond issue was defeated by only 3 votes.

It was thought that the government would have lent $7000 to complete the required $29,000 for a plant if the proposition had been approved.

TRUCK OVERTURNS

COLLINS RELEASED AFTER PAYING FINE

Fred Collins, who, on April 20, beat Gene Beal on the head with a meat hatchet following a quarrel, pled guilty to charges of common assault and fighting before Judge W. S. Smith Thursday afternoon.

He was sentenced to thirty days in jail, but released, promising good behavior, after he had paid a fine and costs.

Beal is recovering from wounds which he received in the quarrel, during which the hatchet made six deep cuts on his scalp. After he was treated by Dr. Howard Dunaway, who took numerous stitches on his head, he went to his home to recuperate.

Collins, a 25-year-old cook, who was employed at Joyner's Cafe here, stayed in the Scott County jail in Benton until charges were formally made against him.

The four will return here soon.

JAMES' VERSION

As Translated by James Huls, Jr.

News of the Town

Mrs. Van Itty will sponsor several fetes this summer so her daughter will be able to show off some of the clothes she bought while attending college.

The Bogville Bugle and the Town Clarion are at it again. The Bugle editor took issue with the Clarion editor over the posting of the Cat's Paw blackberry thicket.

Ervy Jones, Sr. was making disgusting remarks about Ervy, Jr., who persists in running around late at night and spending money. One of the Sages on the shady side of the street remarked that "experience is the greatest teacher". Ervy, Sr., retorted with "if the fellow concerned doesn't spend too much for education".

Lenzie Lewis named Main Street the 'Boulevard of Broken Dreams" immediately after one of the younger fellows threw a firecracker under a bench full of the Sages slumbering in the shade.

Young Jeremiha Jones remarked that "a fellow ought to know how the other half live" when somebody exclaimed about his lavish lunch of bologna and sardines.

Zeb Potts was about to advance a new philosophy to the Sages when Hez Willert mentioned that very few wise men ever amounted to anything. Zeb left the crowd terribly hurt and went fishing.

UNUSUAL FIRE CASUALTIES

Among the thousands of Americans who lost their lives or were badly injured in fire accidents during the past year were many whose misfortunes occurred under unusual circumstances, according to the Fire Casualties Statistics Committee report presented at the recent annual meeting of the National Fire Waste Council by Chairman Paxton Mendelssohn of Detroit.

Of the fatalities listed by the committee from unusual fires were the following:

Fire starting in a davenport in the living room of a two-story frame house ignited the draperies back of the davenport, the flames flashing to all other combustile material in the room, created sufficient heat to draw the wall paper loose from the side walls and ceiling of the room, resulting in a roaring furnace, in which two adults lost their lives. It later developed that several lays of paper covered the walls, a condition constituting a dangerous hazard.

A mother left her five-months old baby in a buggy in the kitchen of their home while she went into an adjoining room. An eighteen-month-old child was left playing nearby. The buggy rolled into the stove, and both children were burned to death.

A young woman died from burns suffered when her lounging pajamas, which had been cleaned with gasoline and which had been hanging on the line for several hours afterwards, ignited when she stepped in front of a stove in which a fire was burning.

A two-year-old child was burned to death when his older sister applied a lighted match to a pool of kerosene in which he was sitting. The children had been playing with the kerosene, and the older child said she did not know it would burn.

A baby carriage burst into flames and became a pyre for a three-month-old baby a few minutes after the child had been placed outside by his mother. The fire is believed to have been caused by small boys playings with matches.

An eight-year-old boy was fatally burned when he threw a lighted match into the gas tank of an unattended tractor.

Among the fire casualties mentioned by Chairman Mendelssohn which resulted in more or less severe injuries were the following:

A mother and her daughter were badly burned when static electricity caused by friction from rubbing silk garments in a pan of gasoline caused an explosion, enveloping the two women in flames, who saved their lives by rushing outside and rolling on the snow-covered ground.

A rather unusual casualty, in which a woman was severely burned as a result of her clothing catching on fire when friction from a broom on the oil-soaked floor of her husband's garage, which she was sweeping, ignited the gasoline fumes in the building.

Seeking a gas leak with a lighted match in her hand, a 71-year-old woman received severe burns about the head and neck when the flame of the match caused an explosion of gas

A young girl was severly burned on the scalp and face when combs in her hair caught fire while she was drying her tresses before an open fire, after washing them

A negro woman was painfully burned when gasoline which she was using for massage purposes, for rheumatism, ignited while she was standing in front of an open fire

Severe burns on the hands and face were sustained by a man who was attempting to light a cigarette, setting fire to the turpentine soaked bandages on his hands

A man was badly burned when a smouldering cigarete butt set fire to the pup tent in which he had camped on the lake.

A woman was seriously burned when a lighted cigarette exploded the fumes from an alcohol still.

REED TO RUN AGAIN FOR U. S. SENATE SEAT

Announces in Copyrighted Chicago Story He Will Be Candidate

Chicago, Ill., May 9.—Former Senator James A. Reed of Missouri tonight announced in a copyrighted interview with the Herald and Examiner that he would again seek a seat in the United States Senate.

Here with his bride, the former Nell Donnelly, Kansas City dress manufacturer, the Senator said, according to the newspaper:

"When I voluntarily left the Senate in 1928, no prospect would have tempted me to run again.

"I don't know that I can make the grade this time, but some one has got to tell the people of these United States what is happening to them.

"The Bolsheviks at Washington have us by the throat. And what they are attempting to do, in my judgment, doesn't include the few defensible things of the Moscow regime.

"This AAA stuff of Wallace's (Secretary of Agriculture) can't be adequately described. They tell the farmer he doesn't have to sign up and then they tell him that if he violates some rules he will be penalized".

SEMO TRUCKMEN WILL MEET HERE SATURDAY

A meeting, during which the trucking code will be explained, will be held at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening at the Armory here. All Southeast Missouri truckmen who hau for hire are invited to attend.

The principal speaker at the session will be Frank B. Caughlan of St. Louis, president of the Missouri Truck & Terminal Association. S. E. Wilkinson of St. Louis, an official of the organization, will also talk.

The trucking code regulates drivers' hours and wages, and prices for hauling all commodities and forces truckers to establish a bookkeeping system and to file a tariff with the State code authority.

Byron E. Finley, a special representative of the State Truck & Terminal Association, was here Thursday to arrange details for the meeting.

GLORIFIED SHORTCAKES

Shortcakes to most of us mean those delectable strawberry shortcakes that grandmother used to serve — rich mounds of biscuit dough, rosy with crushed strawberries and topped with whipped or thick yellow cream. There's really nothing else quite like them.

However we've been experimenting with the idea and have found that all sorts of delicious shortcakes can be made along this same basic idea. Luncheon shortcakes, hot biscuits split and buttered and then smothered in creamed chicken or tuna fish. Supper shortcakes, popovers filled with shrimp a la Newburg. (Men can't get enough of these shortcakes.) And dozens and make this succulent dessert a year-round instead of a seasonal dish.

Just in case your grandmother never served you a strawberry shortcake made with berries plucked when still sprinkled with dew, or if she did, kept her recipe a deep dark secret, we've included our favorite recipe here. And here's a banana shortcake that the children will adore. The Hawaiian shortcake can be served any time of year and is a boon to home-managers when guests drop in unexpectedly and stay on and on with that lean and hungry look that means they really could be persuaded to stay to dinner if invited.

With these recipes as a start you'll be able to concoct all sorts of tempting desserts for your family and guests.

Strawberry Shortcake

2 cups flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
3-4 teaspoon salt
1-2 cup shortening
1-2 cup milk
4 tablespoons sugar

Mix and sift dry ingredients and cut in shortening. Add liquid enough to make a soft dough. Divide the dough in half and roll or pat each half into the same size and shape. Place one layer on a greased pan, butter top slightly and top with other layer. Bake in a hot (450) oven for 15-20 minutes. Split and cover with crushed, sweetened strawberries. Place other layer on top and cover with more crushed strawberries. Top with whipped cream and garnish with whole berries.

Banana Shortcake

Gingerbread
1-2 cup sugar
1 cup molasses
1-2 cup shortening
1 teaspoon ginger
1-4 teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1-4 teaspoon allspice
2 eggs
1 teaspoon soda
2 1-2 cups flour
1-4 cup hot water

Place molasses, sugar, shortening and spices in a mixing bowl and set in a warm place until shortening is soft. Beat thoroughly. Add hot water in which soda has been dissolved and add the beaten egg yolks. Sift in the flour and fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in a greased pan in a moderate (350) oven 30-40 minutes.

Cut gingerbread into 2-inch squares. Split squares and spread with crushed banana to which a small amount of whipped cream has been added. Top with crushed bananas and whipped cream.

Hawaiian Shortcake

Crisp Waffles
2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons sugar
4 tablespoons melted butter
3 eggs
1-2 teaspoon salt

Sift measured flour, add baking powder, sugar and salt. Combine egg yolks, milk and butter. Add to dry ingredients, blending lightly until smooth. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites, and bake in a hot waffle iron.

Place a generous layer of crushed pineapple between two hot crisp waffles and top with whipped cream.

Fruit Shortcake

Sponge Cake
3-4 cup sifted flour
3-4 cup sifted sugar
1-4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon baking powder
4 eggs

Combine baking powder, salt and eggs in bowl. Place over smaller bowl of hot water and heat, adding sugar gradually until mixture becomes thick and lemon-colored. Remove bowl from hot water. Fold in flour and vanilla. Line baking sheet with greased, waxed paper, pour in mixture and bake in a hot (400) oven 12 minutes. Cool and cut in 3-inch squares.

Mix equal amounts of sliced bananas and orange pulp together and chill. Put fruit mixture between two layers of sponge cake and on top of cake. Top whole with mixed cream.

CHAPTER IV

FOREWORD

After five years of a happy marriage, Mary is deeply disappointed and hurt when Lord Rexford refuses to take her with him when he goes to America on a short business trip. His Aunt Hetty, Lady Riversleigh, who despite her age is gay and unconventional, and lives on the Riviera, meets Mary for the first time as Philip is leaving, and prevails upon Mary to go to Cannes with her.

The trip to Cannes was a delight to Mary. Even crossing the Channel when it was choppier than usual, was a joy. Lady Hetty was a marvelous traveling companion. It was impossible for any moment to be dull when she was around.

"I don't know when I've acted like this", said Mary as their train for Cannes pulled out of the Paris station. "Not since I left New York —in all the last five years put together have I laughed so much as I have in these two days since you came into my life."

"High time you did" answered Lady Riversleigh.

"Do you know, Aunt Hetty" said Mary giving her a swift kiss, "you're much younger than I am."

"Because I am wise. I know I was meant to be gay and so I do whatever I feel like doing. But you're coming back to the fold, dear. You'll be positively wild in a day or two — and then, what a time we are going to have."

But even she, whose chief joy in life was shocking conventional society, might have sent Mary back to London, then and there, if she had known just what lay ahead of them.

Their suite was a beautiful one and Mary, who had never been in the south of France before, was enchanted with the view of the Mediterannean from their balcony and the colorful life on the beach.

"I could just sit here forever and look at it" she said to Lady Hetty.

"Sit!" scoffed Lady Hetty. "You can do that in London. We didn't come here to look at scenery. We're going to be a part of it. Come on. We're off to join the gang at the merriest, noisiest bar in all the world —and take my word for it, I know them all. There's enough to look at there — and plenty of drinks thrown in."

Aunt Hetty's popularity was proved by the shouts of welcome and joy which greeted them when they entered the bar. Her first glance told Mary that the place was all Lady Riversleigh had said it would be and at once she was accepted by the merry crowd as one of them. After five years of moving in the most conventional society of London, she was surprised to find how much she felt at home with all these strange people.

"I feel as if I were Mary Watts, of New York again—not Lady Rexford of London" she said to herself as she perched herself on a stool at the bar and lifted her first drink. She clinked glasses with Lady Riversleigh and said: "You were right about not wasting time sitting on the balcony. I feel now I could stay here forever."

"Not a chance" said Aunt Hetty "We're off to a party Nina Peralaisse is giving — and that will be a party worth while, I promise you. She'd feel disgraced if every one she gave weren't absolutely mad. One more round and then we're off — if that Tommy Trent ever shows up.

"That—who?" gasped Mary.

"Tommy Trent — the American I dote on most next to you — and I just naturally 'take to' all Americans."

"Tommy—of all people" laughed Mary. "I had no idea he was here —but one of the best things about Tommy is that no one, himself included, ever knows just where he will be from one minute to the next."

"You know that delightful mad cap?"

"Know him? List to a secret, Aunt Hetty. He used to look my way in New York."

"Did what?"

"Made a pass at me" said Mary. "Where is he?"

"He's in bed with his miseries" said a young man named Erskine. "Some party last night — I just came from his room. Nobody can dynamite him out of his bed, at the present moment."

"Is that so?" demanded Mary pertly. "Just lead me to that room and I'll wager anything you like he'll be in this gay midst before anyone has missed us."

"The only flaw in your scheme" objected Aunt Hetty, "is that then you won't come to the party. He bends everybody to his will — he's too rich and too attractive — so it goes without saying he's too spoiled."

"I'm not bending — this season" said Mary. Then to Erskine: "Come on, whoever you are — lead me to him. You can be the chaperone."

They found Tommy a woeful object. A lounging robe was over his pajamas and a wet towel was bound around his head which he was holding in his hands.

"Am I seeing things" he cried when Mary came into the room. Then, as if suddenly galvanized into life, he slapped the towel on the floor, ran to her and threw his arms around her.

"Mary! Of all people! To find you here! The one thing in the world I need at this precise moment of my none too-worth-while existence. Corn in Egypt! — an oasis in the desert! — a treat for sore eyes! What brought you here?"

"Explanations later. Now you hustle into some clothes. I'm here to take you to a party. Aunt Hetty is fuming that you stood her up."

"No sooner said than done" he cried joyously. "I'll break my own well-known record for a presto-change-o effect. A glorious vision will stand before you before you'll believe it possible."

He was as good as his word and in a few minutes, they were off to join the crowd at the bar. Both of them talked all the time and their laughter rang out like that of happy children. Erskine had been left behind.

"We shook him all right" said Tommy. "He's a good egg, but he doesn't belong on a grand reunion like this. Which makes me think—why do you go barging off with the gang? Let's you and me go for a wild dash alone. Still like speed?"

"In its place" said Mary. "But I promised Aunt Hetty to bring you back. She said you'd try to swerve me from the path of duty. She evidently knows you and all your tricks But I'm an honorable woman—so on ,to join the old guard."

"Where'er thou goest, I will follow" agreed Tommy.

Aunt Hetty had evidently been fuming, as Mary had said, but she was all smiles when Mary followed by Tommy came up to the bar.

"Score one for you" she said to Mary. "One more drink and then off to the wildest party you ever saw."

Suddenly—she did not know why —Mary felt uneasy, even a little scared. She put her arm around Aunt Hetty and whispered to her: "I don't believe I'll go, if you don't mind. I don't seem to be in the mood for it."

"A little warm milk" said Aunt Hetty in a mocking voice, "and a long warm letter to that prim nephew of mine and a nice uplifting book. Did I bring you here for such as that? No backsliding now. Forward march! That means everybody" she cried in a loud tone.

Mary hesitated for a moment. Then, telling herself she was a silly little fool to be acting so, she let Aunt Hetty and Tommy link their arms through hers and went out to the waiting cars. But there was a foreboding in her heart.

"Am I seeing things," he cried when Mary came into the room.

UNUSUAL FACTS REVEALED—by "Movie Spotlight"

Only the rates of death per accident at street intersections and between street intersections were less than the average for all automobile accidents combined in 1933. But the rate of death per accident which occurred between street intersections was 67 per cent worse than at street intersections. This difference can be attributed to the higher speeds which usually prevail betwene intersections, it is shown by statistics on automobile accidents developed by The Travelers Insurance Company.

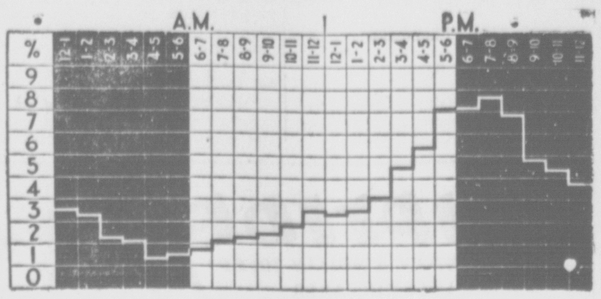

At rural intersections the death rate per acident exceeded the average for all accidents combined by nearly 20 per cent, and was 144 per cent greater than the death rate per accident at street intersections. The higher speeds which prevail on highways account for this difference.

On highways the rate of death per accident was 118 per cent greater than the average for all accidents combined, and was 167 per cent greater than the death rate per accident between street intersections. Just another example of the high price of too much speed.

On curves the death rate per accident was 126 per cent greater than the average for all accidents combined. Yet drivers continue to try to pass on curves. At railroad crossings the death rate per accident was nearly 70 per cent worse than the average for all acicdents combined. This experience is regarded as another tribute to the pagan of haste, or too much speed for time and place.

Between street intersections and at street intersections 573,200 accidents last year resulted in 14,-220 deaths. Between rural intersections and on highways 139,880 accidents resulted in 11,130 deaths. The rate of death per accident on the highways was 219 per cent greater than on city streets. Speed does not pay, is the fact brought out by such figures on the automobile accident situation in this country last year.

Rate of Death From Aotomobile Accidents Much Greater at Night

During the normal daylight hours of 6 a. m. to 6 p. m. last year 413,890 automobile accidents resulted in 13,670 deaths. During the normal hours of darkness from 6 p. m. to 6 a. m., 342,610 accidents resulted in 16,230 deaths.

The rate of death per accident was 43.5 per cent worse during the hours of darkness than during the hours of daylight. Automobile accidents during hours of darkness are more serious in their consequences than those of day-time occurrence because cars at night are being driven too fast for the existing range of visibility afforded by head lamps, statistics of The Travelers Insurance Company bring out.

A further indication of this fact is to be found in a comparison of deaths in the four rush hours of the morning and the four rush hours of the evening. From 6 to 10 a. m. deaths numbered 2550 last year. From 5 to 9 p. m. deaths numbered 9720. The deaths in the four evening hours exceeded the record of the four morning hours by 281 per cent.

From 1 to 6 a. m. automobile accidents numbered 55,150 and deaths 3100 last year. The rate of death per acicdent in this five-hour period was 42 per cent worse than the average of all accidents. For every hour of darkness last year the rates of death per accident were worse than the average, and in only the two hours of daylight from 6 a. m. to 8 a. m. were the rates of death per accident worse than the average . These facts indicate that drivers and pedestrians should be afraid of the dark.

Norge Breaks All Records

With the shipment of 26,402 electric household refrigerators in April, Norge Corporation exceeded its best previous month's record by 6404 units and set an all time production record. Unfilled orders on hand at the end of the month totalled 34,360 even though four six-hour shifts are being operate at all Norge factories.

Total orders for the first four months of this year exceeded total shipments for the entire year of 1933, by 11 per cent, according to Howard E. Blood, president of the Corporation.

"April deliveries were approximately two and a half times those of the same month last year", said Mr. Blood. "This record was acomplished directly following the record breaking month of March when 19,988 units were shipped. Our factories are running at capacity and there is no apparent slackening in demand".

Consult Your Local Dealers For Correct Building Estimates

Here is an excellent example of the New England Colonial style of architecture, in all frame construction and with such modifications as are required to adapt it to modern standards and tastes. The house is a simple, practically square two-story with gable type roof.

At the side of the front there is an entrance hall opening into a long living room at the right. At one side of this living room is a fireplace and a door opening onto the porch At the far end of the living room the stairway to the second floor rises directly from the room.

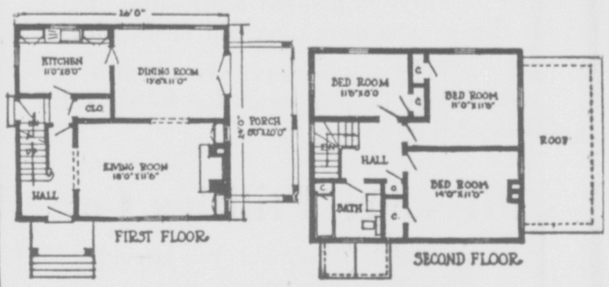

An arched opening connects the living room with the dining room, which is at the other side of the house and off of which opens the breakfast room. There are also doors from the dining room into the kitchen, which is placed just at the side of the dining room.

The kitchen itself is compactly arranged to facilitate the housework. At one side of the kitchen a door leads to a small rear entry and this also leads to the basement stairs.

The upper floor contains three bedrooms and a bath. These bedrooms are all of good size and ecah is provided with a closet equipped with the most modern type of clothes hanging devices, which greatly increases the capacity of the closet. All the second floor rooms are grouped about a central hall and the bedrooms are all conveniently close to the bathroom. The location in which your house is to be built is almost as important as building it. The particular size lot, with the particular frontage or natural advantages which you want may not be available to you for several reasons. The kind of neighborhood, the distance from transportation, the conditions as regards paving, sewer, gas and electricity are some of the things that will govern your selection of a homesite. So we say, pick out the place you want to build before you attempt to choose a house plan.

Having done that and with the lot in mind, try to find a house that will fit it. If it is a narrow lot then you must have a narrow house; if it is a shallow lot, then you must find a house that is not too deep from front to back but one that will not merely go on your lot but will leave a little room for a back yard and perhaps for a flower or vegetable garden, too. It is only by using a complete plan, too, that you can get a definite estimate on the cost of building your home. All other figures are but guesses and it is dangerous to guess when building, no matter how experienced a guesser the builder might be.

The proper person to give you a definite, reliable estimate on your home is your local lumber dealer or builder. Consult him, get the benefit of his advice on home building conditions as they obtain in your community. He will tell you and his counsel will be as reliable as any can be, for your permanent satisfaction is his concern and he will see that you get it. Finally, remember that in home building as in everything else you cannot have everything you want. Compromises have to be made somewhere and probably more have to be made when building a home than in anything else. So don't give up so easily. You will find some house which will come as near fitting your specifications as probably any house possibly could and in time you will probably find it fitting them better than you imagined. Build it, begin now to know the pleasure of living in a house suited to your own requirements, and to know the satisfaction of owning your own home.

INSURANCE DUKE says:

"When the Public Wills That A Business Shall Grow Great"

When a co-operative business extends into thirty-five states with a membership reaching well up toward the two hundred and fifty thousand mark and continues to increase and extend its service year after year, two facts are self-evident.

The first is that the public, by approving the service, has W I L L E D that the organization behind it shall continue to serve, and shall grow great because of its service.

The second is that the course of the organization itself is chartered by experience, resourcefulness and sound business judgment — a management that in today's operation will prepare for the exigencies of tomorrow.

We point with pride to the growth and extension of the service of —

Proposed Amendment to the Constitution of Missouri

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 1.

Adding Section 44d to Article IV.
(Submitted by the General Assembly.)

Proposed amendment authorizing $10,000,000 bond issue of State of Missouri for construction of buildings and additions to and repairing buildings at penal and eleemosynary institutions.

JOINT AND CONCURRENT RESOLUTION submitting t the qualified voters of the State of Missouri an amendment to Article IV of the Constitution of Missouri, to authorize the General Assembly to contract a debt or liability on behalf of the State of Missouri, and to issue bonds of the State of Missouri to an amount not exceeding Ten Million Dollars ($10,000,000) for the purpose of repairing, remodeling or rebuilding, or repairing, remodeling and rebuilding state buildings and properties at all or any of the eleemosynary or penal institutions of this state, for building additions thereto, and additional buildings where necessary, to be submitted to the voters at the next general election after the adoption of this resolution or at a special election to be called, at the discretion of the Governor, prior thereto.

Be it resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that:

At the general election to be held on the Tuesday next following the first Monday in November, 1934, or at a special election to be called by the Governor, in his discretion, prior to such general election, there shall be submitted to the electors of this State, for their approval or rejection, an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Missouri, adding to Article IV thereof, between Section 44c and Section 45, a new section to be known as Section 44d, to read as follows:

Section 44d. In addition to the exceptions made in Sections 44, 44a, 44b and 44c, the General Assembly shall have power to contract or to authorize the contracting of a debt or liability on behalf of the State and to issue bonds or other evidences of indebtedness therefor, not exceeding in the aggregate Ten Million Dollars ($10,000,000), for the purpose of repairing, remodeling or rebuilding, or of repairing, remodeling and rebuilding State buildings and properties at all or any of the eleemosynary or penal institutions of this State, for building additions thereto and additional buildings where necessary; such bonds to bear interest at a rate not exceeding five per centum (5%) per annum, payable semi-annually, and maturing not later than thirty-five (35) years from their date. Said bonds shall be issued by the State Board of Fund Commissioners in such amounts, from time to time, as may be necessary to carry on the building program herein provided for. The proceeds of the sale or sales of any bonds issued hereunder, together with any funds granted by or otherwise received from any agency of the Federal Government in aid of the purposes herein specified, shall be paid into the state treasury and be credited to a fund to be designated the "State Building Fund," and shall thereupon stand appropriated, without legislative action, for said purposes and for the payment of all expenses incidental thereto.

The proceeds of the sale of the Ten Million Dollars ($10,000,000) of bonds herein authorized shall be expended for the purpose of repairing, remodeling or rebuilding any of the public buildings of the State of Missouri devoted to eleemosynary and penal purposes, and for building additions thereto, and additional buildings where necessary.

The said bonds and the interest thereon shall be paid out of the State Building Bond Interest and Sinking Fund, which is hereby created and which fund is to be provided by the levy and collection of a direct annual tax upon all taxable property within the State and from the levy and collection of any special tax or taxes which may be authorized by the General Assembly and by it directed to be applied to the payment of interest and maturing principal of said bonds. If at any time after the issuance of any of the said bonds it shall become apparent to the State Auditor that there will not be sufficient monies in said State Building Bond Interest and Sinking Fund for the payment of the principal and interest maturing and accruing on said bonds during the next succeeding calendar year, it shall be the duty of the State Auditor, annually, on or before the first day of July, to determine the rate of taxation necessary to be levied upon all taxable property within the State to raise the amount of money needed for that year to pay the principal and interest of said bonds maturing and accruing in the next succeeding year, taking into consideration available funds, delinquencies and costs of collection. And the Auditor shall annually certify the rate of taxation so determined, to the clerk of the county court of each county, and to the assessor or other officer in the City of St. Louis, whose duty it shall be to make up and certify the tax books wherein are extended the ad valorem state taxes. It shall be the duty of said clerks and the said assessor or other proper officer in the City of St. Louis to extend upon the tax books the taxes to be collected, and to certify the same to the collectors of the revenue of their respective counties and of the City of St. Louis, who shall collect such taxes at the same time and in the same manner provided by the same means as are hereinafter provided for, and all laws for the collection of state and county taxes, and pay the same into the state treasury. All funds paid into the State Building Bond Interest and Sinking Fund shall be and stand appropriated without legislative action to the payment of principal and interest of the said bonds, there to remain until paid out in discharge of the principal of said bonds and the interest accruing thereon, and no part of said fund shall be used for any other purpose so long as any of the principal of said bonds and the interest thereon shall be unpaid. If at any time the balance in said State Building Bond Interest and Sinking Fund should be insufficient to pay accruing interest or maturing principal of said bonds, the Board of Fund Commissioners shall direct the State Auditor and the State Treasurer to transfer on their books from the State Revenue Fund to said State Building Bond Interest and Sinking Fund the sum required for said purposes, or either of them, and such sum so transferred shall be reimbursed to the State Revenue Fund whenever there may be a balance in the said State Building Bond Interest and Sinking Fund in excess of the amount which may then be needed to meet the accruing interest and maturing principal of the said bonds during one year next succeeding.

Those institutions of the State of Missouri to which any of the proceeds of the sale of said bonds may be devoted are those eleemosynary and penal institutions whose buildings are in need of repair or remodeling or in need of being rebuilt or in need of additions or additional buildings.

The General Assembly shall enact such laws as may be necessary to carry this amendment into effect.
